STATE SCHOOL BOARD FOUGHT IN ASSEMBLY

Speaker Dahl's Bill To Create New Board Of Education Is Defeated

NO PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY

Automobile Drivers' License Bill Is Opposed By Committee

By Associated Press

Madison—The assembly again went on record as opposed to a state board of education Thursday when it declined to engross the Dahl bill, which, in addition to its other duties would absorb the functions of the state board of normal regents. The vote was 51 to 39 and was taken after a motion for indefinite postponement, made by Assemblyman Sachtjen, of Madison, had lost 44 to 44.

The fact that the present state board of education has been abolished was used by advocates of the Dahl bill during argument on the floor as a point in favor of the bill. Without a state board the educational affairs of the state "will suffer from lack of direction and efficient management." Assemblyman Perry of Milwaukee declared.

WOULD GAIN NOTHING

Assemblyman Sachtjen, the only member to speak at any length in opposition to the bill, said he could "see nothing to be gained by abolishing one board and creating another." He declared that "political prejudice and unsettled conditions affecting education make it impossible to form a harmonious and efficient education board at this time."

KILL PRIMARY BILL

The Dahl bill providing for the holding of primary elections in April of each presidential year at which the voters might express directly their choice for the presidential nomination was killed by the assembly today 75 to 10. Speaker Dahl voted with the majority.

POLITICS ADD TO CAPTIVES' DANGER

Chinese Troops Withdraw From Mountain Stronghold Of Brigands

Washington—A delayed message from Minnie Schurman, of Peking, received by the state department, expressed Mr. Schurman's belief that the task of obtaining the release of American and other foreign captives held by Chinese bandits was "now complicated by Chinese politics."

The minister said that "certain hostile factions" were using the bandit outrage to discredit the Chihli party, the Peking government, and Tso Kung, who had been "a hopeful candidate for the Presidency."

The message said it did not "seem probable that the bandits would kill the foreign captives" but that there was danger from the prolonged negotiations and compromises that some of the prisoners might die of starvation, exposure or disease.

TROOPS WITHDRAW

Tientsin—The Chinese government troops which had surrounded the Suichow train bandits and their foreign captives in the Paozuku mountain stronghold have fallen back a distance of six miles, according to advices received Thursday from Lincheng. The brigands' outposts are following the troops as they retire.

The bandits apparently puzzled at the recent cessation of negotiations for the release of the foreign prisoners, sent messengers to the relief workers at Lincheng demanding that newspapers be sent up to them. The newspapers were sent, but the relief party carefully deleted all matter pertaining to the kidnapping outrage.

GREEN BAY ELECTRICIANS ON STRIKE FOR MORE PAY

Green Bay—Electricians in this city are on strike Thursday morning, having walked out after employers refused to grant their demands for an increase in rates from 75 cents to $1 and a closed shop. Between 25 and 30 men are on strike and the employers and foremen are working in their places in an effort to complete several contract jobs.

Must Move Store Eight Inches Back

A building that has held its present street frontage for more than 50 years has, now that it is being remodeled, been declared to be intruding into a street and has been ordered to be set back nearly a foot.

The dispute hinges upon the location of the old Lohman bldg on Appleton street owned by Brettschneider Furniture company and now being remodeled by Martin Boldt & Sons for undertaking purposes.

This building, according to Oscar F. Weissgerber, city engineer, is at present 11.5 feet from the street curb and should be 12 feet. Now that the entire building is being rebuilt, he considered this the time to order it placed according to the true street line.

David Brettschneider could not be reached Thursday noon, but Martin Boldt, the contractor, declared that the matter of proper location as held by Mr. Weissgerber must first be verified. Mr. Boldt did not consider measuring from the street line the correct method of ascertaining the street line. He said the building is on a line with other structures on the same street and even behind the line of the Pettibone-Peabody Co., and did not consider it advisable to move a building from a line it has held for 50 or 60 years.

SEEK MIDDLE WAY IN DRAFTING NEW INCOME TAX BILL

Finance Committee Must Please All Parties In New Measure

Madison—The controversy within progressive republican ranks over taxation which senators thought was settled Wednesday by agreement to introduce a new revenue measure, broke out again Thursday with the announcement by Senator A. E. Garey, who is understood to represent Governor Blaine, that the Blaine tax bill will not be relegated to the background. He declared that five senators, all administrative men, were not ready to support a new tax proposal.

Madison—The drafting of the fourth income tax bill to come before the present session of the legislature was commenced Thursday by the finance committee. The tax committee, members of the finance committee, Senator H. J. Severson and Speaker John L. Dahl will work on this measure which they hope to have in shape by next Tuesday.

Conservative members of the finance committee are going to work against introduction of a bill by that body. Senator Anton Kuekuk has indicated by an announcement that he would not make any assurance to the senate that a new measure would come before it. The progressives expect to control the senate, however, and to have a conference bill of their own.

It is pointed out that the new bill must either be a simple income tax measure with a revision of the present rates and probable removal of the personal property offset, or an income surtax bill. It also agreed by the progressives that the new proposal should repeal the state mill taxes now levied for educational purposes.

If tax commission recommendations are followed the new bill will be a straight income tax measure, like the Dahl bill in many respects, providing for a revised schedule of rates, a fair return to stockholders, and taxation of stock dividends.

Should those within the Progressive ranks who oppose repeal of the personal property offset, press their demands, then it is pointed out that the surtax plan of taxing incomes may be resorted to as a compromise.

Under the new plan the present income tax law would stand as it is with the offset still in effect, and an added tax would then be imposed on larger earnings. This is the plan of Senator H. J. Severson.

BLAINE CUTS OUT EDUCATION BOARD

Madison—Governor Blaine Thursday signed the Garvey bill abolishing the present state board of education. Under provisions of the new law the board ends its functions on July 1.

This terminates a fight precipitated by the governor when, in a special session to the legislature, he urged abolition of the education board as an unnecessary expense. The bill went through the senate with little opposition, but was hard fought in the assembly.

Dr. A. E. Fitzpatrick, secretary of the board since 1919, will leave the state service on July 1 as a result of the governor's signature to the bill.

SWISS CITIZENS HELD IN SOVIET RUSSIA JAILS

Copenhagen—A Moscow report by way of Berlin says that the soviet authorities at Petrograd, Moscow, and Kiev have arrested several Swiss citizens. A number of Swiss ships have been wrecked at Petrograd, while at Odessa three Swiss have been attacked. The soviet government is said to have prohibited visas on Swiss passports.

HARDING SEEKS GREATER POWER FOR RAIL BOARD

Transportation Problem Extremely Acute, President Feels

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1923 by the Post Pub. Co.

Washington—President Harding is watching with more than passing interest the new phases of the controversy which has arisen between the Pennsylvania railroad and the United States Railroad Labor Board.

The president feels that the transportation problem is one of the most important facing the country today and plans to devote an entire speech to it on his western trip. His views on the industrial angle of the railroad question have undergone no change since his recent address to congress immediately after the country witnessed the ill effects of a rail and coal strike. The president is keenly alive to the fact that the insurgency of the western Republicans is due in large part to agricultural problems, particularly the outcry against high freight rates. The railroads have resisted rate decreases on the ground that labor costs have been high. With the last few weeks important increases have voluntarily been granted by some of the larger railroad systems in an effort to insure themselves industrial peace. The merger of lines into systems is under consideration by the interstate commerce commission. It is a measure to facilitate the interchange of freight cars, the economic use of terminals, and the consolidation of facilities.

MENACE OF STRIKES

The menace of the situation always is suspension of service through strikes. The president realizes that both carriers and employees' representatives have challenged and even ignored decision of the railroad labor board. When Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, Tuesday declined to appear voluntarily as a witness before the labor board, he followed a precedent by some of the union leaders just before the shopmen's strike began a year ago. Mr. Rea reversed himself and decided to appear as a matter of courtesy to the labor board. He disclosed the fact that his original refusal was based on a feeling that the Pennsylvania railroad had no dispute before the board. This position grows out of a desire on the part of the Pennsylvania to deal with its own company organizations. The union claim, however, that under the transportation act they can appeal to the labor board for consideration. It is a fact that any 100 men, whether they belong to the American Federation of Labor or to a company union, or whether they have no organization at all can petition the labor board to hear argument as to the equity of their wage agreements with the railroad by whom they are employed.

NO LEGAL POWER

The labor board must now find out whether Mr. Rea's organization of employees represents the workers. There is no legal power to compel the Pennsylvania to agree to the decisions of the labor board. The transportation act is as weak in that respect as it is in compelling the employees to obey. Mr. Harding's last utterance in this connection was: "Public interest demands that ample power shall be conferred on the labor tribunal whether it is the present board or the suggested substitute, to require its rulings to be accepted by both parties to the disputed question."

That's the trend of the president's mind and it will be the guiding principle in his handling of the problem this summer and before the next session of congress.

CANADA SEEKING CONTROL OF PAPER

Cleveland, O.—Canada is determined to control the paper industry on this continent, Dr. Hugh P. Baker, executive secretary of the American Paper and Pulp association, declared Thursday in an address before the Coast Association of the paper industry. The membership of the industry in the United States is largely dependent upon the protection of the nation's forests, he said.

"Undoubtedly, the paper industry of the United States faces an increase in the cost of the pulp wood now being imported from Canada through the proposal now being considered in Canada to place an export tax on all pulp wood exported to the United States mills," he said.

"Within a year or two Canada will be producing more newsprint than the United States."

COAST GUARD CAPTURES MOTOR BOAT RUM RUNNER

Buffalo, N. Y.—The capture of a motor boat on Lake Erie Wednesday night with a cargo of liquor valued at $12,500 is said by federal officers here to be the first instance in which the United States Great Lakes coast guard and dry enforcement agents have worked together. It is also said that every coast guard station on the great lakes has received orders from Washington to lend all possible help to the prohibition forces to break up the smuggling of whiskey from Canada. It is admittedly reaching huge proportions.

Toy lives in Milwaukee, where he is a prominent merchant. The children will be placed in the Canton Christian college to complete their education.

ONE MAN IS KILLED IN GAS TANK BLAST

Entire City Of Birmingham Is Threatened By Gasoline Fire

By Associated Press

Birmingham, Ala.—One life was lost and for a time the entire community was threatened when an explosion and fire wrecked an 80,000 gallon tank of gasoline in the center of the plant of the Wofford Oil Co. here at 2:30 Thursday morning.

Two million gallons of gasoline and crude oil were stored within 150 feet of the tank that exploded and for a time firemen held no hope that the blaze would be confined to the one tank.

At 4:35 o'clock firemen said the heat had been sufficiently assuaged to warrant the statement that the other tanks were safe. Officials announced.

Frank Williams, a Negro worker was said to have been working on the pipe line leading to the tank that blew up and was within a few feet of the tank. His body had not been recovered.

First estimates of loss were placed at $40,000. Origin of the fire had not been determined, firemen said.

GREAT LAKES CANAL FOR LOW FREIGHTS

By Associated Press

Chicago—The first of a series of conferences planned for outlining the advantages that would result to the New England states by construction of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway was held here Thursday by representatives of New England industrialists, the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater association and the American Farm Bureau federation.

Col. Charles R. Gow, president of the associated industries of Massachusetts, and spokesman for the representatives of that section, endorsed the waterway plan and expressed a purpose of arranging a series of conferences between New England industrialists and farmers, and business men for the central west on the proposition of working together for the proposed waterway.

The proposed waterway, Col. Gow stated, would give New England factories a cheaper route to middlewestern producing sections and in return would give the central west cheaper manufactured products.

COAST GUARD TAKES THREE RUM RUNNERS

By Associated Press

Highlands, N. J.—The coast guard Seminoles, which has been patrolling the New Jersey coast since last week, Thursday captured three rum runners. She was seen from shore putting into port with her prize which, apparently, were heavily loaded.

The liquor fleet Thursday boasted a new arrival, believed to have come direct from England. She was a large vessel, a masted steam auxiliary schooner with cargo rigged on both sides for quick loading of runners.

MELLON HAS WAY TO MEET FOREIGN BOOZE RULINGS

Washington—Indications were given at the treasury Thursday that Secretary Mellon has found a way for reconciling the Supreme court's recent prohibition decision with foreign laws requiring ships of their nationals to carry liquor as crew ration.

The belief was expressed that the regulations necessary to carry out the high court decision, barring liquor within the territorial waters of the United States would be actually promulgated within a few days. Officials refused to disclose the course which the treasury appeared to have adopted in dealing with the situation developed by the court's ruling.

Plans Island In Ocean For Thirsty Yanks

New York—As soon as W. C. Greaser of Pittsburgh, Pa., can raise $5,000,000 he proposes to go out into the Atlantic ocean three and a fraction miles off the Jersey coast and build himself an island. Steel and concrete piles sunk in the ocean floor will all go to raise the five million. The piles from five feet to a foundation thirty-five feet deep.

Upon this foundation approximately three blocks square, Mr. Greaser proposes to build two hotels, a swimming pool, four spas, refreshment gardens, and a brewery! Not to mention an opera house, tennis courts, bowling alleys and an art museum.

HE'S AFTER THE MILLIONS

Mr. Greaser is now busy trying to raise the five million. The mails from Pittsburgh yesterday contained several hundred copies of a glittering prospectus offering stock to New York investors at $10 a share.

"The entire island," the prospectus says, "comprises two hotels of 4,200 sleeping rooms each, with the required dining rooms, grillrooms, meeting rooms, banquet and dancing halls, as well as all the rooms necessary for the comfort of the guests, including drug store, dry goods store, tobacco and confectionery stand."

"To insure quick service there will be four recreation gardens with the required buffets for meals and drinks."

BRYAN ELATED AT CONVENTION WIN

Indianapolis, Ind.—Action of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America in adopting the resolution on the Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick case, sponsored by the fundamentalists and rejected by the liberalist element was being hailed Thursday as the greatest victory of the convention by the former group.

The fundamentalists, opposed to the liberal interpretation of the Bible, as expounded by Dr. Fosdick, succeeded in forcing the addition of a minority report of the committee on bills and resolutions, which directs the New York Presbytery to require the preaching in the First Presbyterian church of New York city where Dr. Fosdick delivered his famous "shall fundamentalists win" sermon, to conform to the Presbyterian doctrine.

William Jennings Bryan, who with two Philadelphia ministers, the Rev. Gordon A. McLennan and the Rev. Clarence E. Macartney led the fight against the majority report was highly elated at the result.

APPLETON NURSE PUT ON DISTRICT BOARD

Oshkosh—At the annual meeting of the sixth district unit of the Wisconsin State nurses association held here, the following officers were elected:

President, Miss Kathryn Weinman; vice president, Mrs. E. C. Arneson; secretary, Mrs. Margaret Foley; Oshkosh; treasurer, Miss Esther Allen, Oshkosh; directors: Miss Edith Walker, Fond du Lac; Miss Helen Stinson, Appleton; Miss Ellen Stewart, Neenah; Miss Jean Bell, Kaukauna; Mrs. E. P. Nelson, Oshkosh; and Miss Ida Kuehl, Neenah.

Mrs. J. F. Featherstone of the McCormick memorial foundation, Chicago, gave an address on "malnutrition in children."

NO RUM RUNNING ACROSS BIG LAKE, OFFICERS SAY

Superior—There is virtually no rum running on upper Lake Superior, federal operatives here declared Wednesday in discussing sensational reports of whiskey smuggling on the Great Lakes published in a Chicago newspaper. Agents admit that considerable bootleg whiskey is brought across the border into Minnesota but are emphatic in denying that rum running on an extensive scale is being carried on on Lake Superior.

GERMAN CITY HELD BY STRIKING REDS

Police Driven From Gelsenkirchen After Battle With Communists

Berlin—Striking workmen, said to be communists, are holding Gelsenkirchen where bitter fighting occurred by officials Thursday for illegal sale of intoxicating liquor. His preliminary examination will take place at 4 o'clock Friday morning. Campbell is meanwhile at liberty under $500 bonds. Monard has not yet been sentenced by Judge A. M. Spencer.

The Gelsenkirchen civilian defense force and fire brigade are said to have been driven from the city Wednesday night and there is no force available for police duty.

The advices say that it is impossible to give a correct estimate of the number of casualties.

The communists took possession of police headquarters smashed everything in the building and then fired it. The commanders of the mob had evidently marshaled their forces in preparation for an onslaught, as the whole action was carried out on military lines under the orders of the leaders.

The citizens of Gelsenkirchen are awaiting further developments with anxiety and terror.

BLOW AIMED AT HOME BREW BY DRY CHIEF

Milwaukee—Home brewing in Milwaukee and elsewhere throughout Wisconsin received what appears to be a blow Thursday when Roy A. Haynes, prohibition commissioner, notified every brewer in the state to cease immediately the manufacture and sale of products which can be used for making beer in the homes.

The large amount of malt products used in making beer in the homes in Wisconsin is turned out by brewers, according to Clark M. Perry, federal prohibition director. With this source of supply cut off, home brewers will have to depend on malt products turned out by independent manufacturers.

TWO BOOZE TRUCKS TO BE SOLD BY U. S.

Two automobiles confiscated by the United States government for having been used in illegal transportation of intoxicating liquor will be sold by R. J. White, United States marshal for this district on June 1 at public auction at the Oscar Kunitz garage on Washington.

One is a Studebaker automobile truck previously owned by Thomas R. Feavel, 655 Appleton, and the other is a Ford touring car formerly the possession of Arthur Schmidt, Route 4, Black Creek.

Perry recently appeared before Judge Geizer in federal court at Milwaukee and sought to retain possession of the car that had been used last summer by John Smith for transportation beer.

Schmidt's car was seized last summer by federal officers after having been caught peddling liquor on carnival grounds just outside the city limits.

HIBBING FIGHTS ORDER TO VACATE PART OF TOWN

Hibbing, Minn.—Appeal will be taken from the decision of District Judge W. A. Cant of Duluth ordering this village to vacate that section of the village known as the North Forty plat, it was semi-officially announced here. The decision made by Judge Cant Monday ended a suit of six months duration in which the Oliver Iron Mining Co. sought to compel the village to vacate all streets and alleys located in the plat which contains one of the richest deposits of iron ore in the entire Minnesota fields.

It was indicated Thursday that the village authorities will carry the fight to the United States Supreme court if necessary.

Moon Drunk Helps Police Catch Seller

William Menard is valuably ally for the local police force. First he placed himself under arrest and then became the instrument of the police in trapping an alleged moonshine seller. As a result Howard Campbell, proprietor of a soft drink parlor on Lake street in the "dats" is awaiting preliminary hearing on the charge of selling illicit liquor.

Menard was drunk when he stumbled into the police station Tuesday evening and demanded that Sergeant James Moore place him under arrest. He said he had had six drinks of moonshine and felt as if he ought to have about 60 days in the workhouse. The sergeant, complied with the request and placed him in Cell No. 2.

TELLS ON CAMPBELL

An effort was made on Wednesday to learn where the man had procured the intoxicating liquor that made him so docile. He said he had obtained the liquor from Howard Campbell's saloon. Police insisted he prove his statement and he was taken to the "dats" by Detective John Duval and Driver Albert Delgen and told to make good his assertion.

After first being searched for liquor, Menard walked into the establishment and, it is alleged, bought another pint of moonshine for $1, while the officers kept in the background. Campbell was arrested Thursday for illegal sale of intoxicating liquor. His preliminary examination will take place at 4 o'clock Friday morning. Campbell is meanwhile at liberty under $500 bonds. Monard has not yet been sentenced by Judge A. M. Spencer.

Trial Of Whitfield, Mullato Murderer, Leads To Cream City

Madison—The trail of John L. Whitfield, alleged murderer of Patrolman Dennis Griffin of Cleveland, Ohio, was seen by police, to lead to Milwaukee Thursday with definite information that a man believed to be the fugitive stopped at Okeo, Columbia Co. Wednesday morning for gasoline and oil, and asked the way to the Wisconsin metropolis. Whitfield knows the haunts of Milwaukee and is believed to be in hiding there. The general storekeeper at Okeo reported Thursday that a man answering the description of Whitfield stopped at his place at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning. He drove a large car answering the description of the machine stolen in Madison shortly after the fugitive's escape from police.

Marion Pate, 14 year old companion of Whitfield, may be held to face a criminal charge of her associations with the fugitive. It was learned from the Madison station awaiting arrival of Cleveland detectives expected this morning.

SENATE WANTS OPTIONAL ARMY TRAINING AT "U"

By Associated Press

The Dahl assembly bill, requiring committees and other election campaign organization to file expense accounts also was concurred in and sent to the governor.

After extended debate the senate killed, 14 to 12, the Teasdale bill converting the Milwaukee normal school into a state teachers' college and directing the normal board of regents to install a junior college division in this as well as other normal schools. The Senate also voted adversely on the Oliver assembly bill, prohibiting the teaching of art, music, or agriculture at normal schools.

NEED NATIONAL ISSUE TO WELD U. S. PEOPLES

Harding Deplores Lack Of Unity Of Purpose Since World War

CONSTITUTION IS GUIDE

Must Seek And Do Justice To Achieve Democracy's Great Object

By Associated Press

Washington—An appeal for a rededication of the American people to the aims and purposes of their government as set forth in the preamble of the constitution was made by President Harding Thursday in an address at the opening session here of the National American council, an organization recently formed to encourage better American citizenship.

Such a dedication, the president said would furnish to the nation "a commanding and dominating national interest" which, he said, had been lacking since the end of the World War. Quoting the preamble, Mr. Harding said it constituted "the complete statement of our nation's aspirations, the chart of our course, and the inspiration to every effort to make one and all of us better citizens."

While deploring the lack of a definite common purpose, such as was set up by the war, the president said that he had misgivings with respect to the "common observation nowadays, sometimes altogether too easily and lightly made, that democracy is on trial."

BROAD IDEALS

"There is much questioning of ways and means and institution, but as to the fundamentals it certainly can be said that never was our country more firmly committed to the broad ideals and purposes of democracy and never before were so many other countries seeking to establish like commitments."

"Our national experience during the war afforded illustration of how great common purposes, intense and universal" would weld the nation into a true unity. As a people we have not changed with the return of peace; but undeniably we have lost much of the unity, the solidarity, the eagerness for simple service, that marked our war time attitude. Plainly, it is because we have been somewhat confused by the complexity of our time and situation. No one great dominating and appealing cause has been visualized before us, to command our loyalty and devotion. We have not discovered any single all-absorbing enterprise capable of commanding the services of the whole united community."

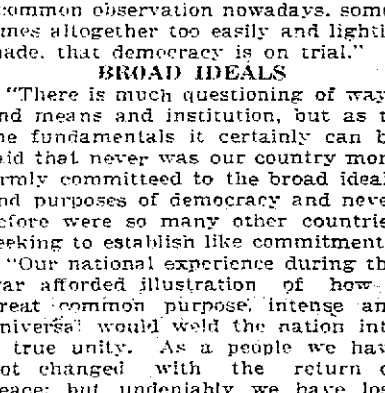

NEED NATIONAL INTEREST

"We need to find such a commanding and dominating national interest and I believe it would be found if we could contrive means to set before all the people the full meaning and implication of that simple statement about the aims and purposes of our government which is contained in the preamble of the constitution."

"If we sincerely wish to leave a better and greater nation to the next generation, to bequeath institutions better adapted to achieve the great aim of social organizations we shall accomplish these things by adhering in our daily conduct to the rule of seeking and doing justice. To this end, the federal government has important contributions to make. Along the same lines the state and municipal governments have important duties. Beyond them every citizen has a personal responsibility in this business of training better citizens."

HARWOOD HEADS STATE NORTHLAND COLLEGE DRIVE

Fund Will Be Raised To Meet Educational Demand In Cutover Country

Frank J. Harwood of Appleton, head of Appleton Woolen Mills, has accepted the position of state chairman, and Mrs. James S. Reeve, that of local chairman of the Northland college building and endowment campaign which is now being organized in Wisconsin. Northland college, located at Ashland, is growing up with the country. Founded as a Congregational academy in 1892, when the lumber industry was at its height in northern Wisconsin, and rechartered by the state as a college in 1907, it has steadily grown to a position of importance among the colleges of the state.

Thousands of settlers are coming into the cutover country of Northern Wisconsin every year and tens of thousands of acres of stump land are being cleared and brought into production annually.

This economic development has been accompanied by a greater demand for local educational advantages, with the result that Northland, the only college of any sort in the timber country, cannot longer meet the demands made upon it.

This is the first general campaign for enlargement ever entered upon by Northland college. Its aim is to double the student capacity and financial resources of the institution.

The entire program of development has been favorably passed upon by the General Education board, and the Congregational Foundation for Education, and is actively sponsored by the Wisconsin Congregational conference.

Many Appleton people have been interested in the progress of the college and have contributed to its support for years. Dr. H. E. Paschke of the local Congregational church is a member of its board of trustees.

MAN OF 60 REGAINS VIGOR HE HAD AT 35

New Orleans Resident Tells of Wonderful Results Produced by a Recent Scientific Discovery

D. W. Wood, 60, of New Orleans, La., declares he has virtually been made young again by the recently discovered korex compound, which is pronounced superior to "gland treatments" as an invigorator and revitalizer. "It has brought me back to a good, healthy physical condition as I enjoyed at 35," he writes. "I am apparently as supple as at 25." Mr. Wood says he would not take $5,000 for what the compound has done for him.

The compound is a simple home treatment in tablet form, absolutely harmless, yet the most powerful invigorator known. Acting directly on lower spinal nerve centers and certain blood vessels, it often produces amazing benefits in 24 to 36 hours. In nationwide tests at his own expense, thousands who suffered from nerve weakness, premature age and lack of vital force. Physicians say it gives speedy satisfaction in cases that defy other treatments. Elderly people pronounce it a real "fountain of youth."

Knowing that this news may seem "too good to be true," the distributors invite any persons needing the compound to take a $2 double-strength treatment, enough for ordinary cases, with the understanding that it costs nothing if it fails. If you wish to try this guaranteed invigorator, write in strict confidence to the Melton Laboratories, 3068 Melton Bldg., Kansas City, Mo. If you prefer, you may enclose $2; or simply send your name, without money, and pay the postman $2 and postage on delivery. SAILORS TO TURN OUT IN NUMBERS TO GREET M'GILLAN

High Naval Officers Who Speak
Here Wants To See Navy
Men In Parade

With Attorney J. H. McGillan of Green Bay, a high officer of the United States naval reserve force, as the speaker of the day, Appleton Naval Veterans association is endeavoring to obtain a large turnout of sailors and marines of the World war in uniform on Memorial day as a means of paying honor to Mr. McGillan on his visit. In a letter received by the association from the Green Bay man he announces that he will be in uniform and is expecting to greet a large delegation of naval veterans upon his arrival in Appleton. Attorney McGillan held a high post at Great Lakes naval training station during the World war. Officers of the naval chapter here are urging all veterans to make no other plans for the day, not only so there will be a large contingent in the parade, but because of the ceremony in honor of deceased sailors which it is considered a duty to attend. All naval and marine veterans of the county are invited to take part in the parade and exercises in view of the presence of the naval officer here. The uniform of the day will be blue suits and white hats. Leggings will be omitted. The "globe" will assemble with the American legion forces at 1 o'clock in the afternoon of Memorial day at Elk Hall.

REINFORCE BOOKS BEFORE ISSUANCE

All adult fiction books and juvenile books owned by Appleton public library are reserved and reinforced before they are placed in circulation. The books are sent to the bindery in the publishers' covers and merely reinforced. This reinforcement makes it possible for some of them to circulate as many as 65 times before needing to be rebound while six or seven times is the average circulation for a book placed on the shelves before it has been reinforced. The reinforcement thus saves money for the library and makes it possible to have better looking books on the shelves. Seven day books, some times circulate as many as 55 to 70 times during a year. After a book has circulated until its cover is badly worn or torn off it is sent to the bindery again and new covers put on. A book can circulate quite a few times under the protection of the new cover before it is considered too worn to use longer.

NEW OWNERS OF THE TRACTION COMPANY
The Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. property in the Fox river valley, including the street railways, gas plant and electric plant, now is the property of The North American company, probably the greatest organization of public utilities in the world. Announcement of the sale of the capital stock of the W. T. L. H. & P. Co. to this great syndicate was of tremendous importance to the communities served by the traction company. There are many advantages to be derived from being served by an organization of the magnitude and far-sightedness of the North American company. The immediate reduction on gas rates authorized by the new owners is an indication of the policy which will be pursued here. While no announcements have been made of development plans for the property so recently acquired, yet it is safe to predict that changes and improvements of vast importance will be forthcoming soon. This prediction is based on the company's record in other cities in which it operates. These cities, among others, include Milwaukee, Cleveland and St. Louis. A utility company is dependent upon the good will of the people it serves for its success and the people in turn are dependent upon the utility company for its services. The utility can not operate successfully if it has incurred the ill will of the people and the people will not be served in the manner they desire if they put obstacles in the way of the company's development. The North American company's policy always has been to deal squarely with the community in which it operates and Appleton people, it is hoped, will give expression to their welcome by pledging cooperation to the company's plans for developing the community.

SIMILAR CONDITIONS HERE
Last week the country was shocked by the terrible school fire at Cleveland, S. C. in which 73 children and adults were burned to death. Now that the country has recovered somewhat from the shock, it is pertinent to ask why this disaster occurred and to give the answer sober consideration. The National Fire Protection association at its annual convention, which was held this month, laid great stress upon making school houses safe in case of fire and panic. A school code of rules for building safety has been prepared at the request of the American Engineering Standards committee. This code would give pupils in public schools the maximum of security. The Cleveland, S. C. school building, measured by the standards of this code, had a number of serious defects, any one of which would have been sufficient to condemn the building for school use. In the first place no such inflammable construction should have been used—or if used, the building should have been protected by automatic sprinklers. In addition to this, the auditorium should not have been above the first floor, and it should have had at least two substantially constructed stairways or other exits, each at least forty-four inches wide. Loss of life by fire or panic is possible if any one of these, as well as of certain other rules, is violated. Now the truth is that these rules are violated in the majority of our school buildings today. An authority on school house construction in relation to fire and panic hazards says that 90 per cent of school buildings in the United States are in a dangerous condition. This means that every city and every community has one or more buildings unsafe as against fire and panic. We have some buildings in Appleton, any one of which could under certain conditions cause a catastrophe fully as great as that which occurred at Cleveland, S. C.

PRESIDENT HARDING TAKES RESPONSIBILITY
The deadlock between the two opposing groups in the United States Tariff commission has been broken by the assumption of responsibility by President Harding. Statements issued in Washington indicate that it is the wish of President Harding that the provisions applying to flexibility should be used in a practical way. The decision is that the commission shall not only investigate schedules, on complaint, but also that it may take the initiative in looking into rates which appear to be out of line with business changes. The commission is, however, to resort to initiative after conferring first with the president.

Business interests and the people do not want discrimination: they are satisfied with protection to the minimum that protection is needed, and above that, they are opposed to a tariff as they have on many occasions voted at the polls. It is now commonly recognized, except by a few politicians and by those who demand special privilege, that the tariff is a scientific subject, like railroad rate-making, and should be handled as such.

STANDARDIZATION SONGS
If there is one supreme proof of the American tendency to be run into moulds it is our lack of any spontaneous songs. Off in the back rooms of a dozen tune factories in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and two or three other towns, tired youths trained in the necessary technique for commercial output keep us supplied with a fluid stream of syncopation and a stickier flood of "ballads." But it is all with an ear to the cash register. Our songs come out like our Fords: are shopworn in a Broadway revue or two; and finally are vouchsafed the general public, which has no more part in their creation than it has in setting women's styles.

Professor Frank Rickaby of the University of North Dakota is engaged in the difficult hobby of collecting genuine oldtime American songs. So far he has brought together the words and melodies to something like a hundred songs of settlers, cowboys, lumbermen and soldiers. He says these hearty and original bits are much in demand, particularly in the colleges. It is quite probable that we shall always have to go back to times of pioneering and stress for spontaneous American folk songs. Civilization and peace bring specialization: and with specialization we leave the musical expression of our own emotions to a commercial class, then appropriate the result as best we can.

GOLD TO EUROPE
Louis Loucheur, speaking in Paris, warns the United States that we had better loosen up on our gold and rush some of it back to Europe where it belonged before we got the corner. He should inform himself on the current figures for the balance of trade.

These figures show that the United States is already "loosening up" in the one sound and practical way—that is, by the natural reaction to an excess of imports over exports. For the first time since 1914 the trade balance is against us—exports $341,462,349, imports $402,000,000 for the month of March—with the result that gold is already moving at a faster rate to Europe as a settlement. More than twice as much gold went to Europe during the past ten months as in a corresponding period of 1921-1922. The more goods we import in excess of exports, the more gold we must ship out of the country.

Loucheur is right in his belief that an excessive gold reserve is bad for us. The monopoly of gold on this side of course hinders and postpones normal trade rehabilitation abroad, which in turn would in the long run affect our own exports and prosperity. Moreover, too great a gold reserve is a temptation to make it a basis for inflation, and a constant trial to the credit structure of the country. But it corrects itself. There is no use giving gold to Europe when we can keep on paying it over for goods consumed.

THE FAT BABY
The essential causes of all obesity, that all too common disease of infants on the bottle, and grown-ups who won't work but will eat, are two, which I have already given away—excess of nutriment and insufficient muscular or functional activity to oxidize the excess. Fat folks who determine their own rations are themselves to blame for their obesity. He who will not, or cannot work must not or should not eat a workman's ration. This is simple, isn't it? But science always is, when you find out. Of course I am not overlooking the several exceptions. I apprehend that some folks are so crippled that they can't indulge in physical activity and others dodge exercise until they become practically crippled. But even if one is genuinely crippled he needn't eat more than enough to maintain a moderately active individual of his height and age. I apprehend, too, that we inherit from our oldest ancestors an innate fear of starvation, and this instinct prompts us to take full advantage of all palatable nourishment that comes our way. Therefore we grow and grow with a constantly increasing girth rate.

I doubt that babies properly fed by their mothers ever suffer seriously from obesity. It is the bottle baby that is likely to be badly nourished and to develop a form of obesity which sometimes wins a prize at a baby show but which any good doctor or for that matter the wise layman knows is abnormal and unhealthy fat. It is the excess of sugars or starches in the substitutes for fresh milk, and not the amount of fat, that accounts for this fattiness. About 4½ per cent of carbohydrates (sugar) is present in cow's milk. About 7 per cent is present in human milk. Various substitutes contain from 30 to 38 per cent of carbohydrates.

As I have often said, a reasonable amount of sugar or candy is good for an active child, but you can't give and maintain a normal child on a diet of practically pure sugar and starch. When children are given too much candy or sweets or permitted to indulge in candy or sweets irregularly instead of taking the candy or sweets as dessert, they lose their natural appetite for other essentials. I say "other essentials," for of course sugar and starch are essentials in the child's diet.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
It is interesting to note that a friend of mine and myself have brought their little boy according to my precepts and the young 'un is a great success now at the advanced age of four years. The doctor in the village hands out a whole dose of calomel first visit, no matter what ails you or how squeamish you may be about it, and therefore doesn't command as much faith as he should. Last time I was sick my doctor prescribed a leviathan dose of the despicable and malignant castor oil, which I swallowed, and it did me a lot of good. But this Idaho man goes on to say, and it is a funny thing, but it never struck me as all queer until I had answered his letter, that they are now expecting a little sister for the boy. As I say, I merely thought how nice that would be, and mailed some such answer. Perhaps this Idaho man has heard one of those kitchen stove stories to the effect that if you let on that you really and truly would like to have a little girl it is more likely to come true. I can tell him that his hope doesn't work—absolutely not. On the contrary, The more ardently you hope and pray for a little boy and proclaim to all the world that nothing would please you better than a little girl, the more certain you are to have a girl. Sometimes I think that it may be better plan to preserve utter indifference.

Q. How is the name of the Egyptian King Tutankhamen pronounced?
R. E.
A. Too tank ah moun—the first and third syllables being slightly accented.

Q. Do the Gypsies belong to a race of people?
R. E.
A. Scientific men have come to the conclusion that Gypsies are neither European nor African in origin, but that they are probably a remnant of some obscure Indian tribe. They made their first appearance in Paris in 1427 when they said they had come from lower Egypt and had been driven to take refuge in Europe from the Saracens and had recently left Bohemia.

Q. How much air does an individual breathe in a day?
R. E.
A. It has been estimated that a person at rest inhales daily nearly 700,000 cubic inches of air. This estimate is a basis for planning the size and ventilation of public halls. A person working would inhale a larger amount of air.

Q. Is there a pension fund for ex-presidents?
R. E.
A. The Carnegie Corporation of New York made the following official announcement November 21, 1912: "Provision has been made through this corporation for a pension for each future ex-President, and his widow, unmarried, of $25,000 per year as long as these remain unprovided for by the nation, that they may be able to spend the latter part of their lives devoting their unique knowledge gained of public affairs to the public good free from pecuniary cares. These pensions will be promptly offered to the ex-presidents and their widows, so that no application will be required from them."

Q. What is the story of the diplomat who danced with a Spanish queen and vowed never to dance with any other woman?
R. E.
A. During the reign of Henry IV and Queen Joanna, the young queen condescended to dance with the French ambassador. In commemoration of so distinguished an honor he made the vow.

Q. Do the front or hind legs of a draft horse do the most pulling?

Q. What is the third degree?
R. E.
A. This is an ordeal whereby it is endeavored to make a suspected criminal confess. Such means as startling the suspect, confronting him with facts or evidence calculated to shatter his nerve control, and preventing him from renewing his nerve by rest or sleep are characteristic of the third degree.

Q. What unusual animals are used in foreign countries for food?
R. E.
A. The roasted flesh of the beaver is considered a delicacy by Indians and Canadian traders. Kangaroos are eaten by the aborigines of Australia. The elephant is eaten in Africa and Sumatra. Camels in Africa, and the porcupine in South America, India, and Sicily.

Q. Could you name any songs that Lincoln liked?

Q. Will dust-laden air, after being blown through a body of water, come out dust-free?
R. E.
A. Water removes almost all soluble gasses and materials in the air, but will not remove dust particles. A dry scrubber is necessary to take of the solid particles, that is, a screen of sand and shaving or crushed stone covered with shavings or sawdust.
Q. How is the game "Van John" played?
R. E.
A. This is the name given in some parts of England to the game Vingt-et-un, known in this country as Twenty-one.
Q. Does an object weigh less at the equator than the same object would at either pole?
R. E.
A. The Naval Observatory says a body weighing 191 pounds at the Earth's pole would weigh 190 pounds at the equator. This loss in weight is caused in part by centrifugal force and in part by the fact that at the equator the body is farther from the Earth's center, and hence the Earth's attraction is slightly less.

WHAT IS GOING ON IN THE WORLD

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
President Harding says, in his opinion, if New York as a state can pass its prohibition law, the result will be "more or less conflict between state and federal authorities."
After prohibition became national, New York, like many but not all states, passed a state law in general conformity with the federal regulation, the idea being that there are not

STILL HELD CAPTIVE
The foreigners, including Americans, who were kidnapped when Chinese bandits held up the Shanghai Peking express, are still prisoners in the Shantung wilds.

What's more, the outlaws are threatening to kill them if the government doesn't give the guaranteed they demand. They actually killed a number of Chinese prison-ers to show their mean business.

To be sure, the government has promised the brigands all they want but the bandits are afraid the government will break its word.

United States Minister Schurman at Peking has threatened "drastic action" if the prisoners aren't freed. The trouble is, while the United States can make things very unpleasant for the government, I won't help the prisoners. In fact trouble for the government is just what the outlaws enjoy most.

ENGLAND AND ITALY
King George of England has paid a visit to Rome. French newspaper speak of it as recalling the visits of his father, the late King Edward, after paid to Paris when he was framing the "entente" between England and France.

Only this time it's Italy that's visited.
In view of increasing friction between the English and French governments, some of the Paris papers wonder if King George isn't trying to arrange an Anglo-Italian "entente," perhaps not in out-and-out opposition to, but at least quite distinct from the understanding which links France and Belgium together especially in relation to their Ruhr policy.

ANOTHER GERMAN OFFER
Another thing worries the Paris press.
Dispatches from Berlin say Chancellor Cuno of Germany is preparing a fresh reparations offer.

The Paris papers say they're afraid this proposition may take such a form as to satisfy England and Italy with out satisfying France and Belgium.

DOWN IN MEXICO
An attempt has been made to blow up the United States consulate in Mexico City with a bomb.
Nobody was hurt, but a lot of damage was done.

It leaks out also that a similar attempt was made recently against the United States embassy.

It seems certain the perpetrators were trying to prevent American recognition of President Obregon's government.

Some people think they were "reds" who don't want any government at all. Others believe they were reactionaries who want to go back to the old regime such as prevailed under President Diaz, when great numbers of Mexicans virtually were slaves.

Pupils Are Delight In May Dances

More Than 500 People See Lawn Festival At Fourth Ward School

Fourth ward school children were favored with the first real Maylike day of the month for their annual May festival on the lawn of the school Wednesday afternoon. More than 500 people were present at the coronation of Miss Mae Hayes as May queen and at the dances which followed the coronation.

The wedding of Daisy and Buttercup and the visit of the "Old Woman Who Lived in the Shoe" were the novel features of the program. The bride in the wedding was little Miss Rosella Dietzen, who was very shy as becomes a bride, while the bridegroom was Master Robert Jacobs. The ceremony was performed by Donald Green in the presence of Miss Mildred Boehmlein, who was the fairy queen. The wedding came after the fairy queen, the little breezes, and the bluebirds and butterflies had awakened the flowers. The queen invited them all to the wedding of Daisy and Buttercup.

"SHOE" FLOAT ARRIVES
Toward the end of the program, a float with the famous shoe on it drove up and the "old woman who didn't know what to do" as it says in the rhyme got out with all her children. They played around in several dances and then the little boys became so tired that they were all put back in the shoe, while the little girls did another dance and bowed their good night to all. The performers were the first grade pupils of the Richmond school.

The first thing on the program was the coronation of Miss Mae Hayes as queen. She was escorted to her throne under a canopy by her court which included Miss Helen Totzke as maid of honor and a party of bearers and flower girls.

The spring dance was given by the second grade of the Richmond school and was followed by the frolic of the butterflies, who were the girls from the first and second grades of the Fourth ward school. The costumes for this number were clever and resembled closely the large black and orange type of butterfly. Four girls from the fourth grade danced the French Baby number and did it delightfully. Their costumes and hats were of the quaint old fashioned kind and they carried handboxes for their hats.

TOTS GIVE DANCES
Little kindergartners gave a group of dances after the wedding. The smallest children in the school proved themselves capable of keeping time with the music and their interpretation of the dances is nothing less than lovely. An Indian war dance was given by the boys and girls of the fourth grade. A group of girls from the fifth grade gave a pretty waltz drill, while the boys and girls of the second grade of the Richmond school had a hoop drill. Boys and girls from the second and third grades danced the stately minuet. The wending of the May pole by girls of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades completed the program.

Had the weather been warmer, the May festival would have taken place in the evening with spot lights on the dancers. The evenings have been too cold this year to even consider the evening performance. One of the reasons for wanting it after supper was that the fathers of many of the children are unable to get away from their work in the afternoon and they are anxious to see their children in programs. The Fourth ward is the only grade school to put on an annual May festival each year.

DANCES IN "LA VOGUE"

THIS IS MISS JANET CAMERON, DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. I. J. CAMERON, 1076 APPLETON ST. WHO WILL APPEAR IN THE DANSE DIVERTISSEMENT BY THE MILDRED HAGERTY SCHOOL OF DANCING AND THE JEBE VIOLIN SCHOOL AT APPLETON THEATRE MONDAY, MAY 28. MISS CAMERON WILL DANCE IN "LA VOGUE."

Arrange Varied Program For Danse Divertissement

"Spring" with its soft glow of color and awakening rhythm, gradually developing into an expression of joy at the coming of the season, is the opening number of the joint recital and danse divertissement to be presented at Appleton theatre, Monday, May 28, by pupils of Miss Mildred Hagerty School of Dancing, and the JEBE Violin school. Jane Pierce, Janet Cameron, June Kaufman, Virginia Oakes, Mary Leona Zelle, Rosemary Walther, Jean DeBauer, and Jean Shannon will take part in this number. It will be followed by an interpretive solo, Flower for an Hour, by Carol Lindberg, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Lindberg of this city. Three mask dances, an innovation in terpsichorean art, will be executed by Miss Verona Schweger of Green Bay.

One of the interesting numbers of the program is the "baby class" in their nursery rhymes. The Pied Piper of Hamelin is the theme of the number, and true to tradition, after freeing the town from imaginary rats, he charms the children from the corners of the stage and they follow him to the "Land of Make Believe." Dorothy Scheuring of Green Bay is the Pied Piper and the children are: Bo Peep, Betty Nolan, Mistress Mary, Olive Miller, Jack Horner, Mary Louise Mitchell, Miss Muffet, Martha Catlin, Georgie Porgie, Betty Buchanan, Three Blind Mice, Marion Schell, Mother May I Go Out to Swin?, Lola May Zuelke, Jack and Jill, Margaret and Jean McNaughton of Kaukauna.

Little Miss Beatrice Bosser does a solo "Miss 123" and Jane Pierce a difficult Japanese todie. Harlequin and Columbine, a beautiful interpretive number is done by Florence Gallagher and Dolly Sweeney two exceptional child dancers. Jean DeBauer will be seen in a Quaker number and Virginia Indra of Green Bay in Betty's Music Box. Helen Miller and Mary Jane Don Levy, also of Green Bay will call attention to a possible "shiny nose" by their rouge and powder putt capers.

Four dainty Appleton maidens will interpret the Pizzicati Polka, Jane

Pierce, Jean Shannon, Virginia Oakes and Rosemary Walther. Miss Anita Klaus of Green Bay will do a Hindoo number, which will be followed by a Witches dance, another sure "hit" by Lola May Zuelke, Olive Miller, Helen Jane Sensesbrenner, Betty Buchanan, Jean and Margaret McNaughton, Beatrice Bosser, Mary Louise Mitchell, Marion Schell and Betty Nolan.

FRIENDS NOTICED IMPROVEMENT

Wonderful Results from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bethel, Wis.—My female trouble was brought on by overwork. I had worked in stores and had to do heavier work than my strength could stand, and had to be on my feet most of the time. Finally I had to give up this work entirely and stay at home. Doctor's medicine did not give me much relief, and my mother wanted me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took a couple of bottles of it and thought it did not help me as much as it should, so I gave it up to try something else. Nothing I took helped me much, so I finally decided to give the Vegetable Compound another trial and to take enough of it to make sure it would help me. I have taken it over a year now and it has brought wonderful results. I have gained from 35 to 110 pounds and am keeping house now. My friends all notice the change in my health. I will be glad to answer all letters that women write to me about the Vegetable Compound.—Mrs. W. G. MONSON, 1515 Park Ave., Beloit, Wis.

ruined

Many a first impression, socially or in business, has been ruined by some seemingly little thing.

IT'S so easy to get off on the wrong foot with people—whether it be in an important business contact or simply in a casual social meeting.

It pays in life to be able to make people like you. And so often it is some seemingly very little thing that may hold you back.

Notice today, for example, how you unconsciously watch a person's teeth when he or she is in conversation with you. If they are unclear, improperly kept, and if you are a fastidious person, you will automatically hold this against them. And all the while this same analysis is being made of you.

What do your teeth say about you today?

Only the right dentifrice—consistently used—will protect you against such criticism. Listerine Tooth Paste cleans teeth a new way. The first tube you buy (25 cents) or the free sample (see coupon) will prove this to you.

You will notice the improvement even in the first few days. And, moreover, just as Listerine is the safe antiseptic, so Listerine Tooth Paste is the safe dentifrice. It cleans yet it cannot injure the enamel.

What are your teeth saying about you today?

OTT WRECKS AUTO TO SAVE CYCLIST

Dale Physician Escapes Injury When Car Turns Over Three Times

Special to Post-Crescent
Medina—In an attempt to avoid collision with a motorcycle ridden by Charles Smith of Racine, Dr. H. A. Ott of Dale wrecked his automobile when it turned over three times in the ditch just east of Medina about 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. Dr. Ott escaped with only a few scratches.

The physician was returning home from Dale. The motorcycle rider, who is employed on highway construction here, did not observe the Ott car behind him and turned around on the road. Dr. Ott was so close that a collision was inevitable. He therefore steered his automobile into the ditch. The car turned over three times, breaking the windshield and causing other damage.

TRANSFER SUNDAY GAME FROM GREEN BAY TO KAUKAUNA

President Coppes Is Not Satisfied With Support Of Kaukauna Fans

Kaukauna—The Green Bay-Kaukauna baseball game of the Wisconsin state league has been transferred to the Kaukauna lot. The Green Bay club lost its old park and as yet has been unable to complete the new stadium. Green Bay lost its first game of the season last Sunday and is classed as one of the most formidable in the circuit. The game should attract a large crowd.

Local officials are not satisfied with the support offered thus far by local fans. The largest crowd this year was only little more than 800 cash customers which is not enough to support the class of baseball team which President John Coppes has furnished the city.

Mr. Coppes assured the rest of the league officials when Kaukauna was admitted to the circuit that this city can draw as large a crowd as any other city but thus far Kaukauna has failed to back up the promise.

The fracas here Sunday afternoon ought to fill the stands. A win for Kaukauna will put her ahead of the Baymen in the betting race. Batteries will be Smithson and Gilck for Green Bay and Trentman and Stumpf for the Electric City. The game is scheduled to begin at 2:45.

CREDIT MEN WILL HEAR BIG BANKER

The Fox River valley conference of credit men will be held in Oshkosh on June 5 and a program of interest is being prepared. William K. Adams, vice president of the First Wisconsin National bank, Milwaukee, will be the principal speaker.

Similar to the part that Gordon Fish played in a farce at Green Bay a few months ago. The Berlin, Ripon and Neenah members will be the judges.

THE PEOPLE'S AID

(The Post-Crescent herewith calls attention to the special service offered its readers through the People's Aid column. It desires to be of service in helping solve special problems vexing the public. Any matters pertaining to public service which are not satisfactory may be aired in this column.

Public officials and persons in public life have consented to cooperate with this newspaper in answering all inquiries relating to public service, receive suggestions for the improvement thereof, or to clear up any misunderstanding regarding the matter. From time to time Appleton residents have availed themselves of this service and have profited by it.)

The People's Aid: The people living in the Third ward school block are being bothered every day and evening of the week by boys and young men chasing through their gardens looking for balls that are thrown from the school grounds.

"We understand that this matter has been referred to the police and school officials but nothing permanent has ever been done to remedy the trouble. If the city of Appleton wishes to use our lawns and gardens for a public playground for all the boys and young men of the Third ward, it does seem that they should either purchase all of the property in the Third ward school block or exempt our properties from taxation as we are not getting the proper use of it. We are paying excessive taxes in this city now and we believe our interests should be protected.

"If the school property were properly fenced in, something similar to the property in the rear of the Y. M. C. A., and the boys were ordered to play ball on the side of the school nearest the street, we believe this trouble could be eliminated."

Signed by three residents of the Third ward.

Answers: I know of no complaint made to the school officials. We take the utmost pains to keep pupils off private property. Yet in spite of these precautions, one boy recently batted a ball into some one's garden. The boy went after the ball without first asking permission. This is the solitary offense that has come to my attention this year. I do not blame these persons for wishing to keep boys out of their lawns and gardens. Yet I am inclined to believe that the damage complained of is caused after school hours.

M. H. Small, Principal, Third district.

"Dr. Small is as anxious to keep pupils out of private gardens as the owners themselves are. He is very strict in this respect. What damage is caused to the properties is done by boys and young men when school is not in session. The property owners have cause for complaint. At the same time the boys must have a place to play. But I should like to have the common council instruct the police to stop all ball playing on the streets, and limit it to large vacant properties. Boys of the Third ward could use the Third ward vacant property in Blocks 2 and 5, Douglas addition, bounded by Lenox, Spencer, Outagamie and Douglas-sts. Fifth ward boys could use the vacant school property in a part of the long block 15, Bell Heights, bounded by DePomere, Ryan, Summit and Mason-sts. Block 32 which will be the site of the west end junior high school could also be used. This is at the rear of the Soo Line station.

A. G. Koch, Chairman, Third district board.

SPIED TODAY

SIX MEN AND A HORSE

A horse which was helping in the excavating work for Louis Weber's house on State-rd. near the railroad tracks, fell into a sewer trench about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The men working there had a hard job getting him out because his legs were pointing upward and he was therefore helpless. First, six of the men tried to pull him out. One grabbed his tail and removed part of it, another tugged at his head and another at his harness; but it was useless. Then they tied a chain to his collar and tried to drag him out with the aid of another horse. To their misfortune, and also to the horse's collar broke. Finally, they put a chain around his neck and the poor horse arose.

WAS IT GOOD LUCK?

Tuesday afternoon on Meade-st. a Ford car trimmed with pink ribbons and a large card on the back, "Just Married," ran over and killed a white cat. It belonged to a little girl. When she went to pick it up there surely were tears and many of them. The couple were too busy to stop. They were young and have a lot to learn.

KELLER PRESENTS CUP TO DEAN OF JEWELERS

Gustave Keller, Appleton, was one of the chief speakers at the closing banquet of the Wisconsin Jewelers association convention at Hotel Retlaw, Fond du Lac, Wednesday night. Mr. Keller presented a handsome trophy cup, in behalf of the association, to G. Scherzinger, Milwaukee, dean of Wisconsin jewelers. Mr. Scherzinger is 91 years old and has been head of his own business for 58 years. Jewelers heard addresses attacking the 5 per cent "luxury" tax on jewelry. Speakers declared that most jewelry is necessary and there is no reason for placing a luxury tax on articles that are in every day use.

WHY, THE YOUNG BULLY!

Wednesday afternoon near the First ward school a little boy in khaki coveralls came hippity-hopping from a store with an ice cream cone. He was about to pass a larger boy on a bicycle when the latter quickly snatched the cone from him. The smaller boy was too surprised to remonstrate. When the captor with the treasure reached the corner he turned, holdy took a couple tastes and called back saucily, "Thank you very much." The little lad walked slowly home through the schoolyard and if I had been near, or I feel certain I would have seen tears in his eyes.

DESERVED TO BE HIT

A mail carrier on the Main-st in Neenah gave mother and me a few anxious moments when we were diving over there. The carrier was riding a bicycle and would ride from one side of the street to the other. He swung back and stopped just a few feet in front of us. Mother jammed on the brakes and averted an accident. And I was pretty excited.

His Tiny Fingers Told

NO pantry shelf is too high for this little man when there's a bag of Almond Short Cookies to reward his climb. He would risk a fall or a scolding any day for a handful of these fresh, crisp, brown cookies. But Mother would have given him all the the Almond Shorts he wanted, if he had asked. She knows how pure and wholesome they are and what a delicious flavor the rich shortening and sliced almonds give them. For between meals, with deserts or in picnic lunches the Almond Short is her favorite cookie, as well as her little son's.

BUTTON, BUTTON

Wednesday morning some of the girls at the Fox River mill decided to have some fun. They filled an old purse with buttons and threw it out the window. In a few minutes a well dressed man in a Buick car came along and spied the purse. He stopped his car after he had gone a half block and came back for the purse. All the time he was looking around to see if any one saw him. When he opened the purse, the girls laughed so that he heard them.

Look At Your Hands

You can keep them white and lovely even though you do your own work—a new idea in a household soap

What a story hands can tell! Some women's hands tell a story of the kitchen, of the scrubbing pail. Others, a story of good-grooming. You can have whichever you may choose. Just because you do your own work is no reason all the world should be taken into the secret.

A soap as fine as a toilet soap—yet a quicker and safer cleanser than old-time laundry soap. Its name is Green Arrow. And it keeps hands pretty. It costs a few cents more a month to use it. For you should figure soap cost per month, not per bar. Good soap lasts longer.

For One Week! Obtain a bar of Green Arrow at your grocer's. Then in one week, look at your hands. What you see will be a revelation. Green Arrow Soap comes in two forms — Cake Soap, for general household use—Chips (or flakes) for laundry and fine fabrics. Both offer you unusual advantages.

WORLD WAR VETS WILL WEAR THEIR UNIFORMS MAY 30

Five Hundred Men Are Wanted
In Line Of March To Honor Dead Heroes

"Every veteran of the World war out in uniform if he has one" is the slogan which Oney Johnston post of the American Legion is using in its effort to secure a parade delegation
for Memorial day
of a size befitting the occasion. It is the hope of the officials that at least 500 men will be in line of march.
They believe it will be true if the veterans realize their duty in paying respect to their deceased comrades.

Bill Hall will be the assembling point for the legion this year, according to the usual custom. All men are to be on hand by 1 o'clock. The column will be formed about 1:15 and a march will be made to the cemetery where the position in the parade will be assigned by Major Lorhan G. Grief, marshal of the day. Capt. Henry J. Pettusrew, commander of the legion post, will be in command.

Mr. Pettusrew makes it plain that no men are to stay away from the parade if they have no uniforms, or if they have outgrown their military clothes. A section of the parade will be made up of men in civilian clothing, and each probably will be provided with the memorial flower, the poppy, to be worn on his coat lapel.

LEGION GETS $270 FOR GRAVES CARE

Checks Are Issued For Money
Donated By City In Post-
Crescent Drive

Appleton has contributed $270 for decoration of soldier graves under the endowment plan of the American legion. This is the final figure in the Post-Crescent's campaign to raise $200 for this purpose.

A check for half of this money has been sent to Austin A. Peterson, Fond du Lac, adjutant of the Wisconsin department of the American legion. This amount will go into the national fund for permanent decoration of overseas graves on each Memorial day.

The other half of the money has been turned over to Oney Johnston post of the legion for improvement of the burial plot on the line of Riverside and St. Joseph cemeteries.
Appleton is to be congratulated on its response. The donations are deeply appreciated by the local veterans of the World war.

Among the contributors not mentioned previously are Mayor Henry Reuter, Johanna E. Hoffman, Miss Mertie L. Culbertson and the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

WILL ORGANIZE TENNIS CLUB AT "Y" THURSDAY

There will be a meeting Thursday night at the Y. M. C. A. to organize a tennis club. All members of the "Y" will be eligible to join. The club had more than sixty members last year, but probably will be somewhat larger this season. The meeting is scheduled to start at 7:30 sharp, and all those interested in the club are invited to be present.

Tink Named Principal
E. L. Tink of Appleton has been engaged to serve as principal of the high school at Lomira for the ensuing year, according to a vote at a recent meeting of the Lomira school board.

Is Every Day a Backache Day?

LAME and aching in the morning?
Tortured with backache all day long? No wonder you feel worn out and discouraged! But have you given any thought to your kidneys?
Weak kidneys cause just such trou-pains, and bladder irregularities.

Don't risk neglect! Use Dr. Don's Kid-your neighbor!

HERE'S AN APPLETON CASE:
Mrs. Mary Dove, 519 State-st., says: "Backache bothered me and I had a steady, dull hurt across my kidneys. My kidneys acted too often and I had headaches and dizzy spells.
I also was run down, but when I had an attack, I used Don's kidney pills from Voigt's Drug Store and they always benefited me."

SAYS RIPARIANS HAVE WON FIGHT

Tripp Seeking $450 From Land Owners To Pay Cost Of Anti-Flood Fight

To cover expenses incurred by the Association for Relief of High Water in its fight to prevent high water damage, the association is now appealing to owners of riparian lands to raise $450. Alan H. Tripp, president, has asked that each riparian owner in the Fox and Wolf river districts contribute at least $2 in order to wipe out the debt.

"The waters of Lake Winnebago and the Wolf and Fox rivers," said Mr.
Tripp, "for the first time since 1876, when congress permitted the war department to take control of these waters for navigation purposes only, have been operated according to law."
"The government has operated these waters strictly in observance of the law since March 1, 1923. Not one drop of water has been held back on a single acre of land this year. Every since gate has been open since March 1, 1923, and the high water mark was set by riparians at 15 inches instead of 21 1/2 inches as before. Your rights are restored."

LIBRARY STOPS RESERVATION OF FICTION VOLUMES

Copies Cannot Be Held On Request—Idea Was Found Impracticable

Reservation of fiction books at Appleton library no longer is permitted because of the impossibility of getting the books promptly when notified has made the change imperative. There are 1,367 adult borrowers at the local library and about three-fourths of them are almost entirely readers of fiction. With this great number to enter to and with as many as 20 or 30 reservations on a single copy it became impossible to keep up the practice.

It is estimated at the local library that it takes 20 minutes of a librarian's time for every book placed in reserve. First the books must be located, then a check made on the card. When the book is returned to the library the person whose reservation is next must be called and the book kept out of circulation until called for. Sometimes the books are kept out of circulation in this manner for 24 or more hours and when there are as many as 30 calls ahead it is practically impossible for many persons to get the story when they want it.

Nonfiction, however, is reserved and the librarians encourage the idea. A number of the best nonfiction books of the day have recently been authorized at the local library and for people interested in affairs of the day and modern writings it is a splendid way to be assured of getting the copy before it is old. Because there are less nonfiction readers the same difficulty in securing books will not arise.

SPECIAL P. O. FOR SHRINER CONCLAVE

Any letter directed to an Appleton Shriner attending the big convention June 5 to 7 in Washington, D. C., and simply addressed for example, as "John Smith, Shriner," will be delivered to the right person, as a result of the special postal service which will be provided for the convention by the United States postal department.

Stations for delivery of mail, and transaction of other postal business will be established at headquarters of several Shrine temples. A general postoffice for the special convenience of Shriners will be established on Pennsylvania-ave between Eleventh and Twelfth-sts. to be known as the Shrine postoffice. Stations will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 12 o'clock midnight.

Mail for visiting Shriners should be addressed to hotel, residence or wherever they will stay, or in care of the temples with which they are connected, and their mail will be delivered to these places. Mail marked "Shriner," will be delivered from the general Shrine postoffice.

WHAT NEW YORK THINKS OF JACKIE COOGAN

Following the completion of "Daddy," a First National picture which is coming to the Elite Theater today, Friday and Saturday, little Jackie Coogan, its star, made a trip to New York with his parents. There he received a welcome such as few kings get, and he was the guest of honor at a round of festivities. The hit he made in the Metropolis is illustrated by this account, written by a magazine editor:

"Jackie Coogan gave a party to representatives of the press at the Biltmore Hotel last Saturday, and this statement can be taken literally. It was Jackie's party. He treated his guests to the time of their lives, because in spite of all the success he has achieved, enough to turn the head of the most modest grown-up, Jackie is still the most wonderful unsplashed little shaver that can be imagined.

"There are stage-trained children who are clever—lots of them—and usually they give people who know them privately a 'pain.' They strut, boast and imitate, and make themselves generally obnoxious.

Jackie doesn't. He is just a natural, lovable, happy little fellow whose expressive face reflects his every thought—a prodigy if you will—but in spite of that a regular boy. And that's saying a lot.

"Jackie did most of the entertaining at his party—sort of ran the show, to suit himself, and libbing his way along in a manner few adults could improve upon.

The only time he used something that he had 'learned' was when he recited 'Dangerous Dan McGrew' and a couple of other little poems. And then he proved that the silver shiner isn't the only place where he shines. He read his lines like a trouper. Like many a mother thinks of her son, we almost regret that he must grow up. We should like to keep him always—just Jackie."

START TEN HOUSES FOR K-C FIRM AT NIAGARA

Hettinger Lumber company shipped a carload of lumber early this month to Earl F. Miller at Niagara which is being used in the ten new residences he is building for the Kimberly-Clark company. A second carload will be forwarded the coming week. The lumber is trimmed for interior and exterior use. Time was when Niagara shipped lumber to Appleton.

DOOR-CO ORCHARDS IN BLOOM JUNE 3

Heavy Travel Northward Expected At Time Of Cherry Region Spectacle

Sturgeon Bay and the surrounding portions of Door-co will be the show place of Wisconsin on Sunday June 3, when the thousands of acres of cherry trees of the famous cherry orchards will be in full bloom.

A letter received by the Post-Crescent from Door-co Chamber of Commerce announces that the orchards will be at their best on the Sunday mentioned and autoists are invited to visit "Wisconsin's wonderland" to witness the spectacle.

Numbers of automobile owners in Appleton have made the trip annually to the cherry country and it is expected that many will do likewise this year. With state trunk highway 15 paved all the way from Chicago, all records probably will be broken for the number of cars that pass northward for this particular weekend.

Sturgeon Bay is reached by following route 15 to Green Bay and then proceeding along highway 78 until the northern city is reached. The roads are reported to be excellent for the entire distance. Motorbus lines also operate from Green Bay to the orchard area.

DR. HEGNER NAMED TO PENSION BOARD

Dr. George T. Hegner of Appleton has been appointed a member of the federal pensions board, according to an announcement by the United States commissioner of pensions. Dr. Hegner was during the World war a member of the medical advisory board in the district comprising four counties.

An Appleton war veteran and a Hortsville woman are among the latest persons in this vicinity to be placed on the pension list. Andrew F. Petersen has been granted a pension of $1 a month, and Rosella Feldhausen of Hortsville is to receive $30 monthly.

TEN MEN ARE SEEKING DE PERE P. O. BERTH

Ten candidates are in the running for the vacant office of postmaster at DePere. They are Aloysius L. Simon, H. A. Goodell, Miles M. Shepard, John R. Brookman, James B. Clark, Willahold S. Altmeyer, John A. Kuypers, John L. Schmitzler, Martin H. Bowers and Paul L. Halline. The application of Martin H. Bowers was canceled because the candidate is under age. Thirty or more persons took examinations for 14 Wisconsin postoffices within the last few days. Twelve are seeking the office at Kewaunee and six have applied for the office at Antigo. Women are among the candidates in many cities.

Alkali in Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

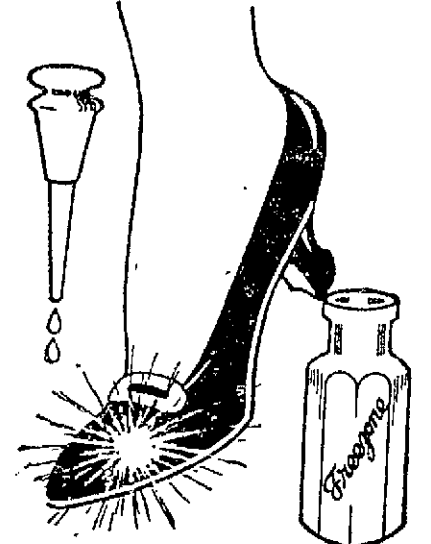

The best thing for steady use is Multisided coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Take one or three teaspoonsful of Multisided is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided coconut oil shampoo at any drug store; it is inexpensive and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure and ask for "Multisided."

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with your fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, and the cures, without soreness or irritation.

Call Is Out For Autos To Carry Vets

Who thinks more of giving a Civil war veteran a ride on Memorial day than of a pleasure trip for himself?

Edgar P. Schommer, chairman of the Memorial day transportation committee, is asking that question of Appleton people. He needs a number of automobiles for part of the afternoon to convey the aged soldiers to the scenes of the exercises and requests that car owners volunteer their machines, or carry one or two veterans with them.

All who will loan their automobiles are asked to telephone Mr. Schommer at number 327, indicating how many passengers they can carry. He will give each autoist instructions as to the schedule to be followed.

DELIVER MEAT WITH REFRIGERATOR TRUCK

Hopfensperger Bros. have added a new refrigerator truck to their Sturgeon Bay district service. The interior arrangement is similar to that of a railway refrigerator car. The body was built by the Auto Body Works of Appleton on a Reo chassis. The truck will make its first trip Thursday and thereafter will make three a week. It is destined especially for the delivery of sausage, bacon, ham and lard.

Camp Radio

F. J. Rogers, formerly of Appleton, has equipped Forest-co Tourist Camp With Aerial so Autoists May Attach Receivers and Enjoy Program from Air

F. J. Rogers of the Forest-co highway commission, formerly of Appleton, is given credit for originating the idea of installing aerials and ground connections in all tourist camps in that county for the benefit of tourist radio fans. Mr. Rogers is himself a radio "bug."

All the tourist needs to do is bring along his receiving set, attach it to the aerial and ground connection and listen to what is going on back home. The state market broadcasting station at Waupun is broadcasting news of this innovation as a hint for other local bodies to equip tourist camps similarly.

Route Cars Home
W. B. Rasing has received instructions from officials of the Northwestern Railway company to see that all cars of other roads are loaded only with freight that will take them in the direction of their home roads. The different roads are calling in their freight cars and are taking this means of handling the situation.

FIVE PETITIONS IN FOR T. B. TESTING

Only five petitions for free area tuberculosis tests of Outagamie-co cattle have thus far been returned to John P. Hantschel, county clerk. They are petitions circulated in Buchanan, Oneida, Vandenberg, Grand Chute and Dale and include about 150 names.

At its last session the county board of supervisors instructed the county clerk to secure blank petitions for a state test and send them to the town chairmen for circulation. The names of 60 per cent of the cattle owners in a taxing district are required on a petition in order to provide tests for the locality.

Vacuum cleaner magic Producing rabbits from thin air is a simple stunt compared with what our expert cleaner men can do with the Hamilton Beach Vacuum Sweeper. The jumping dollars, the snapping thread, and the fluttering carpet, are a few of the trick demonstrations they can show you.

But frankly, such stunts don't prove very much, because vacuum sweepers are bought to clean rugs and carpets, easily, quickly, and thoroughly. This is the greatest trick any cleaner can do. We recommend it as the standard by which to compare. You run the cleaner yourself, on your own fine rugs. Then you empty the bag. The dirt you remove makes decision easy.

Hamilton Beach
Vacuum Sweeper

To the brush driven by the motor, of course, we have added a bale of 215 cubic feet of air per minute! which not only air-sweeps the surface but cleans through the rug from the bottom. The result is a really amazing efficiency, a cleaner that is doubly thorough, though doubly swift! We believe you will be satisfied with no other, once you try it. From corded bumper to handle tip, every detail points to lastingness and quality. Yet you can obtain its 30 superlatives for less than comparable cleaners cost. That makes it generous value for the money. We want you to know its multiplied cleaning power, of brush plus super-suction! So we have arranged to lend cleaners for self demonstration and to name convenient terms.

FOR THE FARMER.
RESEEDING BEST WHERE RED CLOVER CROP IS FAILING
Fields in Some Parts of County Found Light Due Partly To Weather

BY W. F. WINSEY
Owing to winterkilling, excessive rains last August, lodging of nurse crops or something else equally destructive, the stands of red clover, while very thrifty generally in the county do not give promise of large yields in a number of fields.
In occasional fields, a thin stand is spread over the entire area but in others it is confined to the elevations or spots on which the stubble indicates that a lodged nurse crop smothered the legume before it could be removed.
To make up for losses of these kinds, three courses are open to the owner. He may abandon the hope of getting a hay crop started this season, plow the field and plant potatoes, cabbage, soybeans, peas, sunflowers or corn—his choice dependent upon the nature of the soil and the nature of the farm. This alternative is radical and should be resorted to in case of the prospect of a half-crop or total loss of the former seeding only. Any one of the emergency crops suggested however, will prevent a loss and under favorable conditions make the field pay well.
But if the stand is satisfactory on the greater part of the field and is defective only on knobs or in sharply defined patches, the thing to do, is to dig or springtooth such patches and to reseed them with the kind of seed that failed, using oats, barley or peas as nurse crop. The nurse crop should be removed, unless it is peas, before opening for fodder to give the legume a fair chance to grow and develop sufficiently to stand the winter.
If this method is pursued, the bare spots so treated will produce something more profitable than weeds this season and be seeded to produce the regular crop with the balance of the field next season.
Of course, this at best, is only a patching process but under favorable conditions by its adoption it will be possible to get a good field of red clover or alfalfa from a bad one.
If the entire seeding is a failure for some reason other than winterkilling, or smothering by a nurse crop, it will be advisable to analyze the soil to discover whether any element of fertility required by red clover or alfalfa is missing and to supply any deficiency before reseeding.
It is still early enough to reseed with alfalfa or red clover, using as a nurse crop oats or barley, to be cut or hay before ripening.
Any emergency crop will pay better than raising a half-crop of red clover or alfalfa or giving over a field to weeds because failure came from the first seeding.

FARM OUTLOOK IS BETTER BUT LABOR STILL IS PROBLEM
Government Believes Prosperity Of Country Will Work To Advantage

The general agricultural outlook now is probably the best it has been in three years, says the United States department of agriculture.
The domestic market for farm products is reported to have improved immeasurably as the result of increased prosperity in urban communities, but the prospective demand for American farm products is not as good this year as it was a year ago.
"When labor is fully employed and wages high," the department says, "farm products find a ready sale and better prices."
The outlook for next fall and winter is considered to depend upon continuation of the present industrial boom in the cities. Labor is being drawn from the farms to cities. The cal farm help pinch is expected to come at harvest time. Prices on leading crops show an upward trend, but the general level of livestock prices is reported as stationary, tending to move slightly upward. Prices of common grades of hogs are also showing an upward trend, so that the relative purchasing power of a unit of farm products remains unchanged, the department points out.

JAPAN SEEKS END OF CASTE SYSTEM
Tokio—Senosuko Yokota and other Zenkai members of the Diet recently introduced in the Lower House a resolution urging the abolition of class discrimination, particularly with regard to that social stratum commonly known as the "eta" class. This class forms the own community and numbers approximately three million persons, scattered throughout the country.
The term "eta" was formerly applied to the butchers of Japan, when meat eaters were outcasts, but it was abolished by government ordinance a number of years ago. It was believed at the time that this step would have the effect of gradually bringing away with the old custom of discriminating against those of the "eta" community, but the traditional discriminatory treatment still continues.

GIRLS WILL HELP TO SELL POPPIES
Memorial Flowers Will Be Sold On Street For Soldier Welfare Work

Many girls have responded to the call for workers to sell poppies on Poppy day which will be conducted Saturday by the American Legion auxiliary but more can be used especially later in the day and during the evening. Mrs. George Hogriever is general chairman of arrangements and will take the names of workers over the telephone. Any who wish to help the auxiliary are urged to telephone her. College girls who are members of legion auxiliaries in their home towns are especially urged to take part.
The entire proceeds from the sale will be used for welfare work for service men and their families. Both Oney Johnston post and its auxiliary do a great deal especially for disabled veterans, during the year and the poppy sale provides the funds.
Poppies are not sold at a given price but for anything which the purchaser feels he can give for the cause. The number to be disposed of this year is 6,300, which is several hundred more than were sold last year.

Write Names Last Time In Book Of Sins
The day for "no more pencils, no more books etc." has not yet come at Appleton high school, but Thursday was a day of great rejoicing, nevertheless. It was the last day that students had to sign the book in the office which is known as the "Tardy book." The students were not the only ones who rejoiced because the book would no longer be used. The teachers who have to see that the students who come late sign up were quite as joyful that that duty was done for another year.

COMBINED LOCKS MAN TRIED FOR DRUNKENNESS
Thomas Reinhill was arraigned in municipal court Thursday morning for drunkenness following his arrest by Louis Smith, constable of Combined Locks. Judge A. M. Spencer ordered him to pay the costs of bringing him to court which amounted to $6.20.

MRS. STILLMAN TO GET $7,500 A MONTH
By Associated Press
New York—The appellate division of the Supreme court Thursday upheld the award of $7,500 a month alimony and $15,000 counsel fees made Mrs. Anne P. Stillman by Justice Morchauer last February.
James A. Stillman, former New York banker, had appealed the award as excessive, after he had failed in his efforts to win a divorce, naming Fred Beauvais, Indian guide, as co-respondent.
In his appeal Stillman said he had given Mrs. Stillman $210,000 in addition to fees of $47,500.
Mrs. Flo Leeds, named by Mrs. Stillman as co-respondent Thursday had not filed suit against the banker, as she had threatened this week after asserting he had failed to support her child.

PETERS FACTORY PATRONS REQUEST STATE T. B. TEST
Forty Attending Meeting Vote To Supply Only Tested Milk
Forty patrons supplying milk to Peters cheese factory, town of Ellington, have joined the bovine anti-tuberculosis movement by voting at a meeting at the factory Tuesday night to ask the state for a test of their herds. Robert A. Amundsen, county agent, was present and talked to the farmers.
This decision hinges on whether the legislature appropriates an indemnity fund to reimburse farmers for cattle slaughtered after they are found to react to the disease. It is expected that the money will be forthcoming as in past years.
The state provides that when all patrons of a cheese factory petition for the tubercular test, state veterinarians will examine the herds without charge. No milk may thereafter be supplied the factory unless it comes from tested cows.

BoxingZwick Winds Up His Training For Battle
With Neary Tomorrow

Both Batters Ready For Start-off Gong—Substitute Dale For Gulz In Second Bout On Evening's Program

Jack Zwick has about completed his preparation for his comeback with Tommy Neary, Milwaukee, in the Armory G arena Friday night. Zwick was due in Kaukauna on Thursday to put the finishing touches on his work. It is probable he will not come to Appleton until just before 3 o'clock Friday afternoon when it is time to weigh in. Neary is expected here Friday morning.

Reports from Racine, where the Kaukauna battler has been training, indicates he is in superb condition. Among his sparring partners were Billy Kautz, the Racine battler who is preparing for a scrap with Frank Conley, former bantam champion, and Bud Gorman, Gorman left a few days ago for Shelby, Mo., where he will assist in conditioning Tommy Gibbons for the later fight with Jacques Dempsey on July 4. Gorman's place at Racine was taken by Johnnie McCue, than whom there is no better trainer in this fair state.

The ticket sale is booming, according to Promoter Elmer Johnston. The state boxing commission has ruled that standing room will not be tolerated at the fight so Johnston is putting in all the chairs he can get his hands on.

Otto Tonne, Green Bay, has been officially selected as the third man in the ring. Neary kicked on any but a Milwaukee referee but after a little negotiating he accepted the Green Bay arbiter.

One change has been made in the preliminary card. Young Gulz, the Oshkosh battler, scheduled to meet Dick Bora in the second bout of the evening, was taken ill with measles and his place is taken by George Dale, another slugging Oshkosh scrapper. Dale had been training with Gulz and so is in fine shape for a battle. Bora is working hard to be in condition for a fast match.

MILL WHEEL PLAYS
1ST GAME SATURDAY

The Interfraternity baseball league, which officially started its schedule last Saturday met with hard luck in the shape of the heavy rain that fell on that day, and forced the teams to postpone their opening games until another time. The few innings played Saturday indicate a very evenly matched league. The games which were postponed because of rain will be played off as soon as they can be crowded between the regular schedule.

Games booked for next Saturday follow:

Kimberly-Clark vs. Cellucotton at Neenah, Interlake vs. Combined Locks at Combined Locks, Fox River vs. Coated Paper at the Interlake grounds, Tuttle Press vs. Thilmann Pulp and Paper at Brandt Park.

Kinks o' the Kinks
by PRO

How long has it been since an American golfer has won the British amateur championship? In what year did Robert Gardner, captain of the American team, now in England, make such a good showing?

Walter J. Travis, an American citizen but an Australian by birth, won the British amateur title in 1904, just 19 years ago. Since that time American golfers have tried in vain to bring the championship from over there.

Robert Gardner in 1920 went to the thirty-seventh hole in the final round before going down to defeat.

A and B drive their ball into a hazard. A takes two shots to get out of the hazard, then discovers that he has played his competitor's ball. Is it possible for him to then play his own ball without incurring any penalty?

In a hazard, if a competitor play more than one stroke with a ball other than his own, and the mistake be discovered before he has played another stroke with the wrong ball from outside the limits of the hazard, he shall incur no penalty provided he then play his own ball.

Who defeated Robert Gardner, captain of the 1923 American amateur golf team, for the British amateur title in 1920?

Gardner lost to Cyril Talley in 1920 after carrying the great English player to the thirty-seventh hole. Talley is the player who made such a big hit at Boston last season as a member of the English team that sought the American amateur title.

EASTERN TEAMS
SHADE WEST IN FIRST INVASION

New York Teams Show Great Class In First Series Of Games.

By Associated Press
Chicago—In the main, the east had all the best of it during the two baseball invasions that ended Wednesday. American league teams from the east won the majority of their western contests, while the eastern Nationals, battling on their home grounds, sent the western invaders back with more losses than victories to their credit. While the Giants were making a clean sweep of the St. Louis series 4 to 1, Brooklyn climbed over Chicago into fourth place by downing the Reds 7 to 1. Boston helped precipitate the Cubs by beating them 6 to 4, and the Pirates continued their joy ride in Philadelphia, again beating the Phillies 7 to 6.

The trips of the Western National league clubs have disclosed an almost unbeatable team in the New York Giants.

After taking every series with the west, the Giants receive the Phillies Thursday and should continue to pile up a lead.

Thursday the Cardinals meet the Pirates in Pittsburgh in a battle for second place which is bound to help the Giants.

The four eastern American League clubs play each other Thursday while the western quartet does likewise. The Philadelphia Athletics will meet the speeding Yankees at Philadelphia and Detroit, and Cleveland will go respectively against Chicago and St. Louis.

Boston, which receives Washington Thursday won the only American League contest Wednesday from Cleveland, 8 to 6.

"Stuffy" McInnis, first baseman, who was waived of the American League and then signed up with the Braves, is going great in the National league. He has just about rounded out the infield. His work with the stick is one of the outstanding features in the league. He piled three hits in four times at bat and helped beat the Cubs Wednesday.

BRAUTIGAN CLAN
GETTING IN SHAPE
FOR SUNDAY TILT

Sheboygan Will Furnish Opposition At Brandt Park Sunday Afternoon

In preparation for their battle with the Sheboygan ball team next Sunday, the Appleton players have been working out every day of the week, getting into shape for a hard contest. Unfortunately, it has been impossible for all of them to get out at the same time, but whenever their duties permitted, a few of them would get away together for workouts with industrial teams here and in the neighboring cities. Tuesday several of them found time to go to Combined Locks. Wednesday several players tried out their stuff with the Interlakes team, and Saturday the whole outfit will get out for practice at Brandt park.

Having been badly beaten by Fond du Lac last Sunday, on their own ground at that, the Chairs will no doubt have spent the week in getting into better trim also. Buster Braun, the old Sheboygan twirler, got away to a bad start in that game and his fielding support was not of the best. This may have been only a fluke. The Sheboygan team has been together for years, and Manager Billy Liebl, who has had ample time in which to get acquainted with his team's style, probably found where the fault lay and remedied it. Anyway, Chair City aggression has been playing good baseball for years, and it would be foolish to expect them to go on as they started last Sunday.

Chief LeRoy, formerly of St. Paul American association team, was in Appleton for a few hours Wednesday enroute to Marinette. The big chief, who is pretty much of a hurler, is dickering with Marinette and Iola for berths and these teams on Sunday. LeRoy worked out with Brautigans crew while in Appleton.

WILLIAMS KNOCKS
SIXTEENTH HOMER

Pittsburg Wins 7-6 On Traynor's Triple And Grimm's Double

Philadelphia — Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia on Wednesday in the final innings, 7 to 6. Traynor tripled in the ninth and scored on Grimm's double. Jim Barry, former Cleveland pitcher, started his first game of the season for Pittsburgh but was removed after the eighth when the Phillies tied the score with none out. Kunz relieved him and held the locals hitless in the last two innings. Cy Williams hit his sixteenth home run of the current season. Traynor also hit for the circuit. Score: Pittsburgh, 7, Philadelphia, 6. Traynor, 3; Barry, 2; Kunz, 1; Grimm, 1; Williams, 1; Head and Henline, 1; Williams, 1.

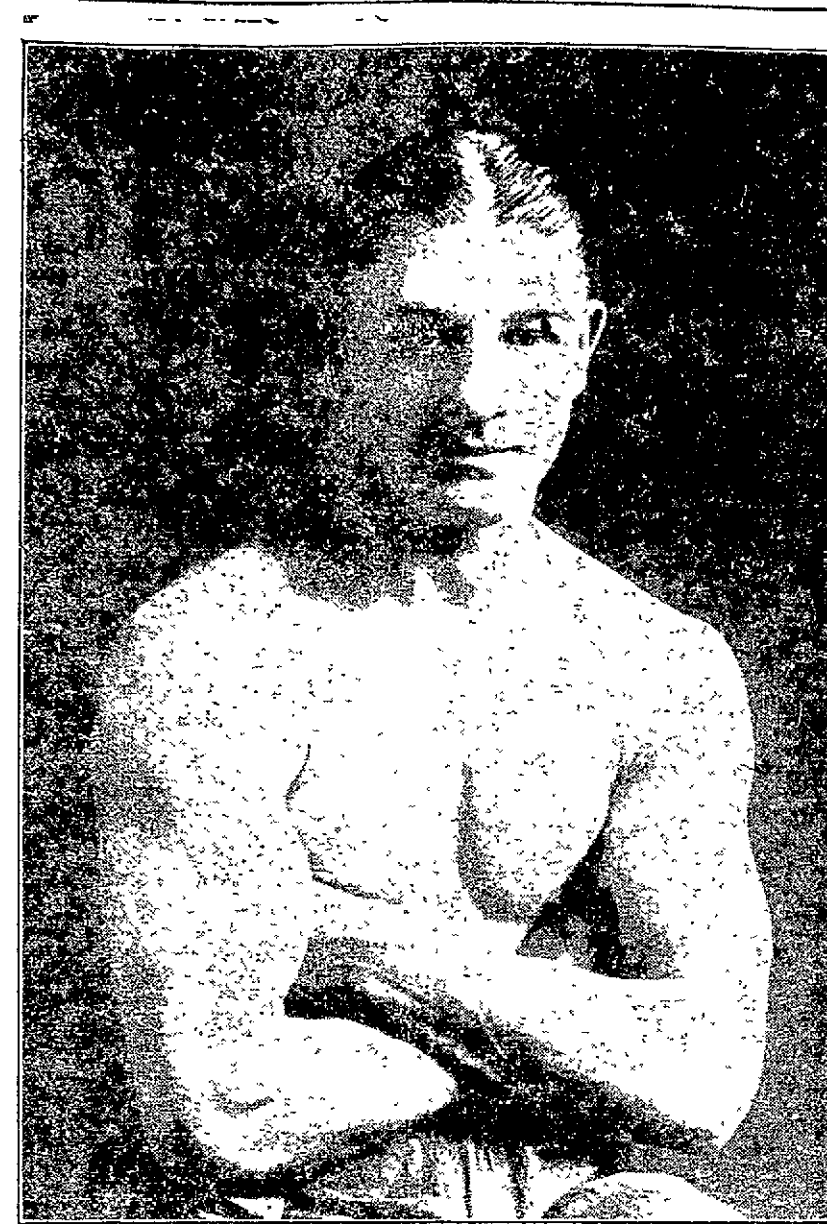

DODGERS WHIP REDS
Brooklyn—Brooklyn won its third straight victory and Leon Cadore his third straight in defeating Cincinnati on Wednesday, 7 to 1. Cadore held the Reds to five hits, a fumble in the ninth saving them from a shutout. The Dodgers hit six times for three runs off Rixey in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings and bunched four more off Kink for four tallies in the eighth. Score: Cincinnati, 1, Brooklyn, 7. Batteries: Rixey, Kink and Wingo; Cadore and Taylor.

4-1 WIN FOR GIANTS
New York—The New York Nationals made a clean sweep of their series with St. Louis, winning the final game on Wednesday, 4 to 1. All the Giants tallies were scored in the fourth. Mann, St. Louis' right fielder, made a double play unassisted in the sixth, when he caught Snyder's line drive, and ran to first before O'Donnell could return. Score: St. Louis, 1, New York, 4. Batteries: Tony and Clemmons, Reid; Iry and Snyder.

BRUINS LOSE FINAL 6-4
Boston — McNamara was generally effective after following Pillingham in the third inning on Wednesday and Boston won from Chicago, 8 to 4, in the final game of the first home stand against the western clubs. The batting of McInnis, Callaghan and Grantham and Ford's fielding featured the score. Boston, 8; Chicago, 4. Batteries: Lumsdahl, Osborne, and Harnett; Pillingham and O'Neill and McNamara.

HE'S MODERN DANIEL
London—A fifty-year-old London boy has proved himself a modern Daniel. The youth, Alfred Garcia, son of a bus conductor, was offered $250 to enter a lion's cage at a circus. Lucky for him the king of the jungle was obsessed with the antics of a lion in the next cage. The beast did not harm him, although it leaped over him once.

Seven Interclass Events And Wrestling Matches With Oshkosh Scheduled

Coach Denney has announced the program for the interclass track meet which will take place Friday at Jones Park. He had planned on including several boxing matches among the other events, but the state boxing commission ruled that bouts could be permitted only if a $2,000 bond were put up, and consequently this part of the program will not be held. There will be three wrestling matches however, in which three Oshkosh matmen will compete with the local boys. Denney has not yet picked his men for this event, these being three choices for the heavy welter, and lightweight classes. These nine candidates will try out Thursday evening, and the victors will be entered in the finals. Van Alstein, Bill Tappert, and Vic Kamp's will try out for the heavyweight class, Rudolph Fischer, Lothar Kamp, and Maurice Lewis for the welterweight, and Harry Vaughn, Single and Wiggins for the lightweight.

The rest of the program follows: 50 yard dash—Briese, Voight, Peerenboom, Douglas Hyde, Donald Hyde, Keller, Bowby, Breuer, C. Packard, Merkl, Single, Stammer. London — "One Man" ears will appear on London street railways soon. Sir William Leeworthy, chairman of the London United Tramways announced. They will be used on the less profitable routes. TENNIS TOURNAYS

Appleton School Represented For First Time In History

For the first time in its history, Appleton high school will be represented at the state interscholastic tennis tournament when its two best racket men are sent down to participate in that event next Friday. Walter Heide and Bert Fischer are the boys who have been chosen to go, and have been entered for the singles. They have been working out with Lawrence tennis talent for the last three weeks, and are in the finest form. This being their first entry into a meet of this kind, they are not expecting to cop first place, but their ability, energy, and agility will not fail to result in a creditable showing.

The boys are leaving for Madison Thursday afternoon, and playing is scheduled to start at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

FIRPO-WILLARD
ARTICLES SIGNED

Winner Of July 7 Battle May Sign For Title Bout With Jack Dempsey

New York—Luis Angel Firpo, South American heavyweight, on Wednesday signed articles with Tex Rickard to fight Jess Willard, former world's champion, on July 7, in New York or vicinity.

The agreement clinching the match was signed after a conference between Firpo and Rickard, at which the promoter was understood to have revised the original offer he made for the fight and which the South American declined. Terms were not revealed, but it was believed that they will guarantee each of the boxers not less than $100,000.

Willard signed articles with Rickard recently, just prior to his departure for a vacation in California.

SITE UNCERTAIN
The site has not been selected, but it probably will be in the Yankee stadium, providing the state athletic commission raises no barrier. Despite reports that the commission had ruled against further appearance by Willard in this state, because he is over the age limit of 38, that body has as yet taken no official action.

Boyle's Thirty Acres, in Jersey City, is available if the bout is not held in New York. The New Jersey boxing commission on Wednesday announced that it would permit Willard to fight Firpo there provided the former champion passes a physical examination, as prescribed by the New Jersey authorities.

TITLE BOUT FOR WINNER
The winner of the Firpo-Willard match probably will be signed for a title bout with Jack Dempsey unless the latter is destroyed in the meantime by Tom Gibbons.

This assurance was given by Rickard to the boxers when he first began negotiations to match them.

BUCS AND PIRATES TRADE PITCHERS, 2ND BASEMEN
Philadelphia—Lee Meadows, pitcher, and John Rawlings, second baseman, have been traded by the Philadelphia National league club to the Pirates in exchange for Charles Glazner, pitcher, and James Flaherty, second baseman. President Baker of the local club said it was a straight trade with no cash inducements. Rawlings recently was purchased by the Phillies from the New York Giants and had not played with the local club.

MICHIGAN PAIR RECOVERS
BONDS STOLEN FROM BANK

By Associated Press
Iron Mountain, Mich.—Two thousand five hundred dollars in bonds, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartnett, of Hermansville, stolen from a bank at that place Oct. 22, 1922 when bandits looted the institution, have been recovered by their attorneys, M. J. Doyle and George Barstowe of Menominee.

A bond for $2,000 was in possession of Frank Powers, a Chicago broker, who claimed he loaned $800 on it. Another bond for $500 issued by the Morainville Paper company, was found on the person of a man who was arrested at Chicago after a fight with a taxicab driver. Chicago authorities held the bond as evidence against the man, but returned it a few days ago to the owners.

Pittsburg, Pa.—The Pittsburg National league club announced the outright release of pitcher Harold Carlson to the Wichita Falls, Texas league club.

A few steps about the patio on the house's back, and Mercedes bade Blaze sit on the steps. "When they were alone, Mercedes searched the eyes of the man who sat beside her. What a lot had dared for her! Didn't he know that she loved him? Why didn't he speak?"

Mercedes failed to realize that her very nearness rendered Blaze almost speechless.

"I hate to leave," he muttered at last, "and right along I've been telling myself I'd be mighty well pleased to get home if Mooney went back too. Did you ever get mistaken about yourself like that?"

Mercedes did not answer lest her voice should betray her.

"I'm awfully blue," Blaze went on. "In spite of all the trouble and the things I've been happier here than ever before in my life. I've been trailing Mooney for two years. I've kept my word with the kid. When their trial's over, I'll be through. I'll go back to my ranch. But no matter, I'm going to be homesick for Paradise valley and you."

"Homesick for me?" Mercedes queried in broken tones.

Blaze looked away, but he nodded his head.

"Yes, Mercedes. I'm going to miss you."

My Man whinnied as Blaze stopped.

"I'm going to miss him, too. And he'll miss me. I want you to ride him once in a while, Mercedes."

"I'll be very good to him," she whispered in hushed tones. "I'll keep him until you come back, Senor Blaze!" She stopped short and got up. "You'll be coming back, eh, Senor?"

Blaze caught the note of fear, of concern, in her question; but he failed to take advantage of it. Instead he murmured unhappily: "I'll be coming back some day, but when quite safe?"

This was not all that he wanted to say, nor was it entirely the truth. He had a very definite idea of when he would be coming back.

He wanted to tell her so; to ask her to care for him, and to wait until he came back. To his credit, he was not well experienced in the ways of love.

The modesty of the man was his best virtue. So he pretended not to understand, to be surprised, when it was only because he could not believe that happiness, such as having her meant, was to be his.

Mercedes was so close, so lovely. She seemed so well poised, so at ease, that his own confusion was only magnified by comparison. His habitual and often tested composure had deserted him in his hour of need.

Blaze was truly miserable and in an evident attempt to stave his own feelings, he resorted to the bantering tone that had served him so well in his man-world.

"And what will I find when I do come back?" He tried to laugh good-naturedly. Mercedes bowed her head.

Blaze put a hand on each of her shoulders. "I'll ask Kent, or somebody, how Mercedes is, and they'll say, 'Humph! She's a big lady now. She's got a new name! Maybe it will be Uprade, or Rodriguez, or Liotard! Yes, sir! That's what they'll say. I'll look at my old gray hair—how time flies! But I'll find you. And there you'll be, a great lady with three or four black-haired kiddies of your own!'"

Mercedes shook her head. Her eyes were misty, but she smiled.

"No!" she murmured. "I don't think so; not those kids."

This was the Mercedes of old.

"Yes, you will!" Blaze grinned. "The right man will come along quereida. You look sharp so that he don't get by."

"Huh!" she muttered. "I look sharp, all right. But he don't!"

"He?"

"Sut! That right man! He's so blind like a bat. But maybe he don't want to see Basque girl. Still, if he comes back—with his gray hairs—I'll be here. Arrascada! That's a good name. I'll keep it!" She forced a tantalizing smile to her face as she went on: "You won't have to waste no time then when you come."

Once before, in that very patio, they had looked into each other's eyes as they did now. Blaze saw there what he should have seen long ago.

"Oh, querida mia," he breathed. Whatever else he intended to say was smothered in Mercedes' hair. He caught her up in his arms and held her to him. There was color in her face again; her lips red for his kisses.

"I'll be coming back," she heard him say.

From a distance, it seemed, came her low, wild, tomboy laugh. He was waiting in spirit again for the unforgettable day on the river. She was speaking, and even her voice reminiscent of that afternoon.

"I guess maybe," she managed to say, with a defiant little toss of her head. "Mercedes will have those three, four black-haired kids any-how, huh?"

Minutes passed as they sat there without speaking. The shadows began their evening west. Peace and happiness settled down upon the patio.

In a room above, some one lighted a lamp. Its mellow glow reached the man and girl on the steps. His arm held her closer for a second and then relaxed. Mercedes laughed lightly. From its accustomed place she caught up her guitar and crooned a plaintive little Spanish love-song in a voice for Blaze's ears alone.

If the stars in the sky far above you have brought you, beloved, to me. If, in their wisdom, they've chosen you.

How, then, can I help loving thee? How, then, can I help loving thee? "La-la-la-la-la, la-la-la," throbbed the guitar. Blaze closed his eyes. This was the end of the trail! Life began anew here.

A tear stole down Mercedes' cheek. Happiness had overwhelmed her. The morrow no longer threatened. She was ready for the dawn.

THE END.

Blaze looked away, but he nodded his head.

"Yes, Mercedes. I'm going to miss you."

My Man whinnied as Blaze stopped.

"I'm going to miss him, too. And he'll miss me. I want you to ride him once in a while, Mercedes."

"I'll be very good to him," she whispered in hushed tones. "I'll keep him until you come back, Senor Blaze!" She stopped short and got up. "You'll be coming back, eh, Senor?"

Blaze caught the note of fear, of concern, in her question; but he failed to take advantage of it. Instead he murmured unhappily: "I'll be coming back some day, but when quite safe?"

This was not all that he wanted to say, nor was it entirely the truth. He had a very definite idea of when he would be coming back.

He wanted to tell her so; to ask her to care for him, and to wait until he came back. To his credit, he was not well experienced in the ways of love.

The modesty of the man was his best virtue. So he pretended not to understand, to be surprised, when it was only because he could not believe that happiness, such as having her meant, was to be his.

Mercedes was so close, so lovely. She seemed so well poised, so at ease, that his own confusion was only magnified by comparison. His habitual and often tested composure had deserted him in his hour of need.

Blaze was truly miserable and in an evident attempt to stave his own feelings, he resorted to the bantering tone that had served him so well in his man-world.

"And what will I find when I do come back?" He tried to laugh good-naturedly. Mercedes bowed her head.

Blaze put a hand on each of her shoulders. "I'll ask Kent, or somebody, how Mercedes is, and they'll say, 'Humph! She's a big lady now. She's got a new name! Maybe it will be Uprade, or Rodriguez, or Liotard! Yes, sir! That's what they'll say. I'll look at my old gray hair—how time flies! But I'll find you. And there you'll be, a great lady with three or four black-haired kiddies of your own!'"

Mercedes shook her head. Her eyes were misty, but she smiled.

"No!" she murmured. "I don't think so; not those kids."

This was the Mercedes of old.

"Yes, you will!" Blaze grinned. "The right man will come along quereida. You look sharp so that he don't get by."

"Huh!" she muttered. "I look sharp, all right. But he don't!"

"He?"

"Sut! That right man! He's so blind like a bat. But maybe he don't want to see Basque girl. Still, if he comes back—with his gray hairs—I'll be here. Arrascada! That's a good name. I'll keep it!" She forced a tantalizing smile to her face as she went on: "You won't have to waste no time then when you come."

Once before, in that very patio, they had looked into each other's eyes as they did now. Blaze saw there what he should have seen long ago.

"Oh, querida mia," he breathed. Whatever else he intended to say was smothered in Mercedes' hair. He caught her up in his arms and held her to him. There was color in her face again; her lips red for his kisses.

"I'll be coming back," she heard him say.

From a distance, it seemed, came her low, wild, tomboy laugh. He was waiting in spirit again for the unforgettable day on the river. She was speaking, and even her voice reminiscent of that afternoon.

"I guess maybe," she managed to say, with a defiant little toss of her head. "Mercedes will have those three, four black-haired kids any-how, huh?"

Minutes passed as they sat there without speaking. The shadows began their evening west. Peace and happiness settled down upon the patio.

In a room above, some one lighted a lamp. Its mellow glow reached the man and girl on the steps. His arm held her closer for a second and then relaxed. Mercedes laughed lightly. From its accustomed place she caught up her guitar and crooned a plaintive little Spanish love-song in a voice for Blaze's ears alone.

If the stars in the sky far above you have brought you, beloved, to me. If, in their wisdom, they've chosen you.

How, then, can I help loving thee? How, then, can I help loving thee? "La-la-la-la-la, la-la-la," throbbed the guitar. Blaze closed his eyes. This was the end of the trail! Life began anew here.

AIR TAXICABS ARE NEXT IN MOTORDOM

Georges Barbot's Inventions Expected To Change Travel Methods

By Associated Press
Paris — "Air taxi, Monsieur, air taxi to London? Land you there inside two hours and only cost you $3 in your money."

"No, thanks. You see, I've got my air runabout in the hotel hangar."

This conversation between a French air taxi man and an American business man somewhere on the Parisian boulevards hasn't taken place yet. But according to Georges Barbot, the great French airman and airplane inventor, it will be heard in the not very dim future.

In fact, Monsieur Georges has a vision of being the Ford of the air. You will talk just as naturally of your cheap reliable little Barbot as you do now about your Ford.

Barbot holds some of the world records for motorless flying and has applied what he learned in gliding to the making of an airplane which is already called by some the alicote.

He denies that it is a glider or that gliding is a necessary art in running the machine.

The other day near Toulouse, France, he took his new machine equipped with a seven-horsepower engine, and made it rise unassisted by air currents. The little engine maintained the machine in the air for a quarter of an hour, traveling at the rate of 56 miles an hour at a height of 2000 feet. The cost of gasoline worked out at about two cents per five miles. Of course it would be much cheaper in the United States where "fuel" is so dear.

After his first experiment he went up on the following day to a height of 1500 feet and remained up for a half hour. The machine was built at the de Wolfine factory and is a monoplane with specially curved wings only adopted from the experience gained in gliding. The engine weighs only 17 pounds and is located just behind the propeller which is of abnormal size.

"Once we perfect it," said Barbot, "there is no reason why we should not turn them out as rapidly as Ford turns out his motor cars. And they will be even cheaper. They can be sold as cheaply as $350."

"The machine can be landed in 30 seconds in any wind and there is no danger to be feared from engine breakdown since the machine planes down gently for a distance of three times its altitude."

"Given a cheap safe compact little machine and cheap gasoline, you can visualize a future where the air in America will be full of Barbots as the country roads are full of Fords."

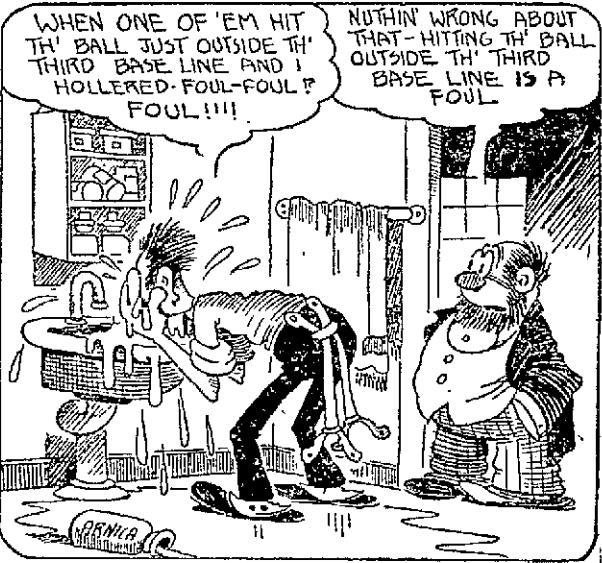

THEY'RE OPEN LATER
London—The lift has been lifted in Westminster division. Public houses are permitted to remain open now until 11 o'clock. A ruling by the licensing judges revoked the 10 o'clock closing order in effect several years.

During the reign of Edward III in England, more than two courses were not permitted at one meal, except on certain holidays.

WANT AD TIPS—

A Want Ad Win In One Move

The Want advertiser can be likened to the checker enthusiast, engaged in solving a "problem." On the board, black occupies certain squares, white other squares. "Black to win, in four moves," reads the problem. The checker player, if he is skillful, by close study can determine just how to make black win in four moves. In the game of business, it sometimes devolves on the Want advertiser to make his advertising win with one move—one insertion. And there are known, established ways to go about doing it. The circumstances, say, are about like this. You have come on from the West to settle the estate of a relative, a restaurant proprietor. An urgent wire from your partner summons you home. You must leave on the morrow. Your restaurant is unsold. You turn to the Want Ads to sell your restaurant for you before you leave. You have time for but one insertion of a Want Ad. Here are suggestions to make that one insertion triumphant.

APPROVE HARDING PLAN FOR AMERICA IN WORLD COURT

Appleton Men Are Speakers At Congregational Church
Conference

Resolutions endorsing President Harding's proposal that the United States cooperate in the world court were adopted Wednesday at the convention of Winnebago and Northeastern Wisconsin associations of Congregational churches at Rosendale, Conn. The convention will be held at the University address was delivered Monday evening by Dr. Silas Evans, president of Ripon college.

Appleton church was represented by Dr. H. E. Peabody, the Rev. C. W. Cross and F. J. Harwood. Tuesday about 20 Appleton young people were at Rosendale to attend a young people's session at which speakers were Willis Elmer and the Rev. Mr. Cross. Elmer spoke on the "Open Lake Conference and Mr. Cross discussed how the young people should serve the church.

Mr. Harwood was one of the speakers Wednesday morning, describing his experiences as Sunday school superintendent for 40 years. In the afternoon Dr. Peabody delivered an address on "Peace and Christian Internationalism."

The world court resolution also contained a request that Congregational churches adopt similar resolutions on Memorial Sunday, May 27.

The resolution follows:

Whereas the Winnebago and Northeastern associations of Congregational churches in conference assembled, representing 8,000 members, have unabated and urgent interest in the cooperation of all nations to avert the horrors and toll of war.

Resolved that the events of the past year have convinced us even more deeply that we must have some association or league of nations to prevent war and keep the world in order.

Resolved further that we heartily approve President Harding's proposal that America cooperate in the world court, and that we urge the members of our churches, as citizens, to support this proposition by their votes and in every other way.

Resolved further that copies of these resolutions be sent to President Harding and to our senators from Wisconsin.

And resolved that we request the churches we represent to pass resolutions on Memorial Sunday, May 27, supporting the proposal for a world court and to forward the same to the president.

Mayor's Nine Is Winner In City Dads' Swatfest

A good many of the city fathers were nursing Charley horses on Thursday as a result of their violent exertions at their annual outing on Rat river Wednesday.

It was a glorious day made still more glorious by the catch of about 50 fish, mostly white bass. A chicken dinner prepared in the way city fathers like it was served on the farm of George Behrent, who plays host to Appleton city officials annually.

The most strenuous exercise of the day was a baseball game between teams captained by Mayor Henry Reuter and Alderman A. W. Laabs. It proved too much for John Bauer, plumping inspector, who came away with a bad ankle.

The game ended with a score of 51 to 56 in favor of Mayor Reuter's aggregation. It was played in two installments, one in the afternoon and the other after supper. Arguments flew faster than at any council meeting and the game ended with a protested victory.

Barbery and other serious charges were heard frequently. City Clerk E. L. Williams, who acted as umpire, seemed to be the center of attack while Alderman Charles Pose, scorer, was held under suspicion. A petition for recall, referendum fell short, however. The entire matter has been referred to Theodore Berg, city attorney, for investigation, but his opinion has been discounted by members of the losing team, as he played on the winning team.

Laabs started the pitching for the losers, but was batted out in the third inning when Mayor Reuter's men pounded out 12 scores. Great protest was heard when Laabs was replaced by Charles Hopfensperger, well known professional ball player, who baffled the opposing side. The trouble was started anew when Alderman Walter Schultz of Mayor Reuter's gang was knocked out of the box to the tune of 13 runs. Alderman Leslie Hansen finished the game for the victors.

City officials, on returning home Wednesday evening, felt they had run so much that they are little inclined to run for office again.

J. J. Sherman, president of Citizens National bank, attended the nineteenth meeting of group No. 3 of Wisconsin Bankers association at Marinette Wednesday. The new officers elected were Joseph Pfeiffer, Sheboygan, president; George E. Dawson, Prillish, secretary and treasurer; C. J. Ritzman, Fond du Lac, and C. D. Eastman, Plymouth, members of the executive committee.

The meeting was attended by 150 bankers and their ladies. The morning program was held at the Elk club and included an address of welcome by Mayor W. F. Shomaker of Marinette; annual address by the president, O. P. Oshelider, Marinette; report of secretary and treasurer, George E. Dawson, Brillion; address, "Not What To Do, But How to Do It," E. T. O'Brien, Kenosha; address, "Bank Legislation at Madison," George D. Bartlett, secretary of Wisconsin Bankers association.

Luncheon was held at Hotel Marinette and was followed by the afternoon session which concluded with the election of officers. The feature of the afternoon program was an address, "Saving the Day for the United States of America," by Dr. W. A. Ganfield, president of Carroll college, Waukesha. According to the local banker it was an address that struck home. J. M. Smith, president of Wisconsin Bankers association, discussed association activities. Sales were rendered by the Estelle Louise Vernet and E. L. James of Marinette.
